Mediators Fail to Bring Resumption Of Contract Talks

By the Associated Press
A pre-Christmas settlement of paralyzing strikes against American and Eastern Airlines appeared beyond reach today—normally one of the busiest days of the year for the grounded lines.
Efforts of national mediation board officials in Washington yesterday brought no immediate plans for a resumption of contract negotiations between American and the striking Air Line Pilots association.
The board reportedly sent telegrams to both sides suggesting new bargaining procedures. The nature of the proposals was not learned, but Mediation Board chairman Leverett Edwards said talks might begin in a few days.
In New York, an American spokesman said a company decision on the resumption probably would be made today.

Flights Canceled

There was no development in the stalemate between Eastern and its mechanics and flight engineers.
An Eastern spokesman said today's booking for canceled flights had numbered about 31,000—highest in the line's history.
American estimated it would have carried about 30,000 passengers today and tomorrow.
Spokesmen for both lines said the year's peak passenger loads would have been carried during the two days before Christmas.

American estimated its daily loss at a million dollars since the pilots walked out last Friday midnight. Eastern has been grounded since Nov. 24.

Non-struck airlines, buses and railroads expanded facilities to fill the gap in the crush of holiday traffic.
Serious delays in airmail deliveries were not widespread.

Service Continues

A reassuring note came today from Capital Airlines in Washington.
In a statement it said was cleared with the rest of the industry, Capital advised: "Although it is difficult to obtain seats on specific flights and at certain hours of the day, most airlines have space available between major U.S. cities. If the public can adjust departure plans slightly, all should be able to get reservations."
Capital also said non-struck lines have hired additional personnel, including many employees furloughed by struck carriers.

Green Bay Girl Dies In Arizona Accident

Winslow, Ariz.—Mrs. Judith Ellen Weise, 18, of Green Bay, Wis., died today of auto injuries suffered about 20 miles east of this northern Arizona city.
Mrs. Weise was the second to die in the accident. The driver, Charles J. Wahler, 21, a sailor from Cincinnati, Ohio, was killed outright. Highway Patrolman Bob Harvey said he apparently dozed at the wheel. The car went off the road and overturned 2 1/2 times.
Mrs. Weise's husband, Carl, and Richard Temmerman, 23, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, escaped with minor injuries.

Special Color Greeting to All Of Our Readers

The Post-Crescent presents all its subscribers a special Christmas card on Page A-18 of tonight's paper.
This original, locally-prepared holiday page, printed in three colors plus black, was created and drawn by Fred Schmidt, Post-Crescent staff artist. The four color plates were produced in our engraving room and the total effort represents many hours of effort on the part of many people in our plant.
The page expresses the sincerest wishes from the 170 full time employees and hundreds of carriers and part-time people of the Post-Crescent organization that your holiday will be filled with happiness and the deeper meaning of Christmas.

This is the 99-foot high national Christmas tree glowing with decorations during a test lighting in Washington. The big spruce, located on the Pageant of Peace on the Ellipse south of the White House, will be officially lighted late today when President Eisenhower presses a button. The lighting test was made while floodlights still were trained on the Washington monument.

Post-Crescent Staff Writer
The George F. Peabody trust will mark about 50 years of existence early next month by going out of business.
The trust, set up by the founder of the Pettibone-Peabody store (which was sold to the H. C. Prange company), began with Peabody's death in 1909 and contained $154,354. In 50 years it grew to more than $1 million.
Beneficiaries of the trust include the city of Appleton and its people. Of the $1,299,061 paid out during the life of the trust, $345,742 went to members of Peabody's family and employees of his store. The remainder was paid to community and municipal organizations for the benefit of Appleton.
Beneficiaries of the trust and the amounts received are the Visiting Nurses association $448,620, Appleton Park

Pilot Makes Landing on E. Glendale

A student pilot Sunday afternoon landed his airplane with a dead motor on E. Glendale avenue and crashed into a fence.
Paul B. Zelinske, 712 Appleton street, Menasha, was uninjured.
The airplane touched down just west of the E. Glendale-Ballard road intersection, crossed it, hit the ditch and stopped at the fence at the edge of Outagamie County airport. Landing gear fittings and the propeller of the Aero-ona Champ plane were damaged. Max Sagunsky, airport manager and owner of the plane, termed the damage minor.
The forced landing was caused by icing in the carburetor when Zelinske failed to turn on the carburetor heating unit, Sagunsky said.
The plane touched down approximately at 1906 E. Glendale, about four houses from Ballard road. No cars were in the immediate area.

Ike Plans $77 Billion '59 Balanced Budget

Living Costs Back At Record of July, Report Indicates

Higher Prices of 1959 Autos Cited as Principal Reason

Washington.—Living costs edged back up last month to their record peak of last July. At the same time, average earnings of factory workers climbed to record heights.
Influenced chiefly by the higher prices for 1959 automobiles, the cost of living index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent between October and November to 123.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This equals the record reached last July and is about 2 per cent higher than in November of last year.
Reporting this today, the labor department said November also saw a sharp rise in factory worker spendable earnings and buying power. This resulted from higher hourly pay and increasing work hours.

Tipsy Drivers Lose Licenses

The men are: Paul F. Steinway, 60, who gives his address as Box 133, Menasha, $153.95 bond forfeited.
Walter L. Phillips, 24, Torrance, Calif., who gave his local address as Wisconsin avenue, fined $120 on his no contest plea.
Harold J. Sanders, Jr. 31, route 2, Hortonville, fined $120 on his guilty plea.
Steinway was arrested by Appleton police Aug. 9 after

Kaukauna Rallies to Relief of Weyenberg Family

Kaukauna.—Eighth grade children and neighborhood boys will participate in the funeral for the six children of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weyenberg, 1129 Harrison street, who died in a fire at their home Sunday morning while their parents were attending mass.
Citizens of the city interrupted their preparations for Christmas to provide relief for the stricken parents through organized fund drives spearheaded by Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon.
Pallbearers will be 24 eighth grade boys from Holy Cross Catholic school. The school's eighth grade girls' choir will sing. Three neighborhood boys, Gerald Ebbesen, Lester O'Brien and Gerald Kobussen, will serve as acolytes as the Rev. Andrew J. Quella, pastor of Holy Cross Catholic church, entones the mass of the angels at 10 a. m. Wednesday.
Caught in Fire
Mr. and Mrs. Weyenberg were attending the 5 a. m. mass at Holy Cross church Sunday when the fire started. It was only the second time they had attended mass together leaving the children unattended in the past. They attended alternate masses and one stayed with the children.
Fire Chief William Haupt today said the cause of the fire definitely was faulty wiring in the floor lamp in the living room.
The children, Lynn, 7; Douglas, 6; Margaret, 5; John, 3; Barbara, 2; and Michael, 18 months, sleeping upstairs, apparently panicked and rushed into the bathroom to escape the blaze. Five of them were found asphyxiated in the bathroom. Douglas was dead outside the door.
Father Quella said the congregation has donated a lot in the parish cemetery for the burial of the children.
Collection Centers
Lynn was in second grade at Holy Cross school and Douglas was a first grader. Mayor Bayorgeon has arranged a pledge collection center in the municipal building. Volunteer workers are taking telephone pledges at Rockwell 6-2768.
The Farmers and Merchants bank and the Bank of Kaukauna are receiving personal and mailed donations.
The Kaukauna Chamber Commerce members today are canvassing businessmen for donations. Local 147, of the Pulp, Sulphite and Papermakers union, is canvassing Thilmany Pulp and Paper company for donations. Weyenberg is a pipe-fitter there.
Benefit Basketball Game
Other less organized centers also have been formed. A dish has been placed in the fire department for contributions from passers-by. A large milk can was set up at the site of the fire.
The Kaukauna Athletic club has arranged a benefit basketball game for 8:15 p. m. Monday against Hewitt's Machine of Neenah. Members are selling 30-cent tickets.

De Gaulle Gets Ready to Visit U. S. Next Year

Definite Decision Not Made But He Favors Journey

Paris.—Premier De Gaulle has begun plans for a trip to the United States early next year, sources in a position to know said today. The U. S. government has invited him twice to make a state visit to Washington.
De Gaulle's press spokesmen insisted that no decision has definitely been taken. But he said De Gaulle wants to go to Washington and confirmed that plans are being made with this in view.
No formal announcement can be expected until De Gaulle's new status as president of the fifth republic becomes official.
De Gaulle, who takes office as president of France Jan. 8, was first invited to the United States by President Eisenhower July 5, after he took over the reins of the French government. The invitation was renewed last month by Sec. of State Dulles when he called on the premier during the NATO council meeting in Paris.

Strike Funds Not Taxable

Court Rules Union Benefit Payments In Nature of Gifts

Chicago.—The U. S. Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals, reversing the ruling of a Milwaukee district judge, held in a ruling announced today that union strike benefits are not taxable.
In a 2 to 1 decision, the 3-man appellate court ruled in favor of a former Kohler Co. employee, Allen Kaiser of Sheboygan, Wis., who paid a tax on strike benefits provided by the United Auto Workers. Kaiser paid under protest, then took the case to court, contending the benefits were a gift.
A district court jury at Milwaukee ruled in his favor in November, 1957, but Judge Kenneth Grubb vacated the verdict and found the benefits taxable. Unofficial sources estimated that as a result of Judge Grubb's decision, nearly a half-million dollars in taxes have been paid under protest by strikers at the Kohler, Wis., plumbingware firm.
The appellate court decision, obviating that "strike benefits are intended to prevent want, as are public assistance benefits," and held: "If the plaintiff, while remaining on strike at Kohler, had found temporary employment elsewhere, his strike benefits would have ceased. The benefits were given because he and his family were in need after he ceased working. Such payments were consistent only with charity. We hold they were gifts and not taxable."

'Unrealistic,' Democrats Say, While Republicans Call It Gift to Taxpayers

BY G. MILTON KELLY
Washington.—President Eisenhower's plan for a $77 billion balanced budget next year was described by Democrats as unrealistic today, but Republicans called it a welcome Christmas present to the taxpayers.
Eisenhower's announcement of his budget plans, unprecedented in advance of the opening of congress, said defense spending would be higher and other expenditures "consistent with the public interest" without any general increase in taxes.
His appropriate $77 billion spending figure would be $2 billion below this year's estimated $79,200,000,000 total. At that level, a $12 billion deficit is expected this year, partly because the recession cut expected federal revenues.
Eisenhower originally had forecast a $500 million surplus for the current year, based on lower spending, higher revenues and a postal rate increase higher than that congress later provided.
Without giving details for next year, Eisenhower said "reductions in total spending will be achieved in part by reason of the ending of temporary programs in agriculture, unemployment insurance and housing."
Due to expire next year are part of the soil bank program and a recession-born program of extended unemployment compensation benefits.
No General Increase
Although no general tax increase is to be asked, Eisenhower said — again without giving details — that his budget will request higher postal rates and gasoline taxes, and some new user charges for government services.
Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo), whose house appropriations committee will have first crack at Eisenhower's appropriations requests, said he is gratified at the plan for a balanced budget "but I am quite dubious about it. I don't see how he is going to get the extra revenue."
Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) said the announcement seemed to him to include "more wishful thinking than any realistic approach" to budgetary problems.
Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) took issue with Republican statements that the budget is a welcome Christmas present, saying instead, it is "a sorry Christmas present for Americans."
"The budget estimates," Kefauver said, "are political in that the president is attempting to place on the Democratic majority in congress blame for any increase in his estimates which may be made and any consequent deficits."
Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), the assistant separate Democratic leader, commented that "I can't see a tax increase" as being in the cards and said Eisenhower will have trouble, too, in getting congress to vote another increase in postal rates. These were raised only this year.
Doubts Postal Boost
"I don't see how he can expect to balance a budget of $77 billion of outgo with an anticipated income of $75 billion for the next fiscal year," Mansfield said.
Like Mansfield, Cannon discounted the likelihood of another postal rate increase, but he saw more chance of a rise in the present 3 cents a gallon federal tax on gasoline. There has been increasing talk in

Says Superior Firms Should Get TV Outlets

Examiner Asks FCC To Uphold Decision On WMAM, WMBV

Washington — A Communications commission examiner recommended Monday that the FCC affirm its decision of last March giving Evening Telegram company of Superior, Wis., permission to acquire control of Marinette, Wis., stations WMAM and WMBV-TV.

Examiner Elizabeth Smith's report nearly coincided with notices to FCC by two TV stations in Green Bay, Wis., WBAY-TV and WFRV-TV that they were dropping protests against the transfer.

The Green Bay stations also said they were withdrawing their opposition to a proposed move of the WMBV-TV transmitter site to a point nearer Green Bay, and an increase in the station's power. This proposal was heard last month by another examiner who has not yet made a recommendation.

1957 Agreement
Under a late 1957 agreement, M & M Broadcasting company, owner of the Marinette stations, agreed to transfer 55 per cent of their stock to Evening Telegram and another 20 per cent to Walter C. Bridges and Norman M. Postles, associated with Evening Telegram President Morgan Murphy in various publishing and broadcasting enterprises in Wisconsin, Minnesota and elsewhere.

Examiner Smith, who prepared her report before the Green Bay protests were dropped, rejected contentions by these stations that the change in ownership might result in the Marinette TV outlet offering package advertising rates in combination with other Murphy stations or papers.

The Green Bay outlets also raised the issues of possible undue concentration of control of communications media in the Murphy group.

Examiner's Report
The examiner said inquiries showed package rates had never been offered by the Murphy stations and there was no evidence that any were planned at Marinette.

The report also stated the Marinette acquisition would not result in any undue concentration of control of communications media.

The proposed shift in the WMBV-TV transmitter, now 14 miles outside Marinette, would place it 14 miles northeast of Green Bay and 38 miles southeast of Marinette.

Giant Nickel Producer and Union Agree to End Strike

Sudbury, Ont. — The International Nickel company made plans today to resume production after members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers agreed to a negotiated settlement of their 3-month strike.

More than 14,000 workers had been out, and the settlement was cheering Christmas news. The company, the area's biggest employer, announced it would pay the strikers their regular $25 Christmas bonus. The men also become eligible for unemployment insurance until they return to work.

The union voted 7,439-701 yesterday to accept a 3-year contract. Pickets were withdrawn last night.

Some employees will go back to work at the mines here and the refinery at Port Colborne, Ontario, on Friday, but most production men will not return until Jan. 2. The company promised to return to a 40-hour week instead of the 32-hour week before the strike began.

Work had been curtailed because of a surplus of nickel on the world market. The company continued sales during the strike from its stockpile. It supplies almost 75 per cent of the free world's nickel.

The new contract provides wage raises of 1 per cent on Jan. 2, 2 per cent a year later and 3 per cent on Jan. 2, 1961. It also provides fringe benefits worth 3 cents a hour. The average wage has been $2.20 an hour.

The union originally sought a 1-year contract and an 8 per cent boost. The company first offered a 3-year contract with no increase the first year and 14 per cent each of the next two.

Each Member of the White House staff has been given a colored reproduction of this painting by President Eisenhower. The president finished work on the painting last month. Location of the barn was not revealed. It is entitled, "Deserted Barn."

Defeated Lawmakers' Aides Seek New Jobs

Special Committee Set Up to Find Work For 650 Persons Left Jobless by Vote

Washington — To the job-hungry on Capitol Hill, Lacey C. Sharp looks a lot like Santa Claus.

Sharp is head of a group set up to help find new jobs for congressional aides whose senate and house employers were defeated in the November elections.

The Democratic sweep sent about 650 secretaries and stenographers scrambling for new bosses among the incoming members.

Keen Competition
Competition is keen for the capitol jobs. They pay from $4,200 to $13,300 for full time work, with top senate jobs paying a few hundred dollars more than in the house.

Sharp, chairman of the Congressional Secretaries club placement committee, said about two-thirds of those displaced by the November elections have found new jobs.

"I think we'll find jobs for about 100 more," Sharp said. This would reduce the casualty list to around 100. Some, mostly oldsters, have retired.

Sharp has no worry about his own job. A veteran of 22 years on Capitol Hill, he is top aide to Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Texas) who is back for another 2-year term.

When a senator is turned out of office, some 15 hired hands have to look for a job. When a house member is beaten, four to five office helpers lose out.

Hardest Hit
Hardest hit are administrative assistants to senators and top secretaries to congressmen.

New members like to bring in their chief aides from their home areas.

"The fellows who have held top-paying jobs are reluctant to take lower-paying assignments," Sharp said, "so many are still shopping around."

Oldsters have trouble, too.

Seaman Tells Police He Killed Molinaro

A Lot of Loose Ends Remain to be Tied Up, Chief Declares

Kenosha — A merchant seaman who spent his last pennies for beer and then ordered a steak he couldn't pay for, has admitted the killing of tavern-keeper Arthur Molinaro.

The admission of Ivo Ivanic, 26, ended what Police Chief Stanley Haukedahl said, described as "lies" and "fantastic stories" told by three persons questioned in the slaying, the climax of a $140 robbery.

Even as he recounted Ivanic's story, Haukedahl said, "There are a lot of loose ends to be tied up. He either has a faulty memory or tells a lot of lies." Ivanic described himself as a compulsive drinker.

"I'd have no problems if I didn't drink," he said.

Displaced Person

Ivanic, who came to this country six years ago as a displaced person, and escaped convict Joseph Kuzel, Jr., 36, of Milwaukee, have been named in warrants charging third degree murder. Mrs. Barbara White, 21-year-old Milwaukee divorcee, is charged with lewd and lascivious conduct in her relationship with Kuzel.

Both Mrs. White and Kuzel named Ivanic as the gunman. Kuzel made the charge following his arrest in Milwaukee 10 days ago, saying he had a "feeling" Ivanic was the slayer. Mrs. White, who has served time in the state home for women at Taycheedah, told three different stories but each time implicated Ivanic.

Pair Agrees

Ivanic and the woman agreed on only one point: she accepted $50 of the loot.

Last Thursday Mrs. White said she was with Ivanic at the time the 56-year-old Molinaro was slain. He was found dying of eight bullet wounds Dec. 4. His hands had been tied with his own necktie.

Mrs. White said that as they left his club, Ivanic threw the murder weapon into Pine Creek. A search Saturday located a box of 22 caliber bullets of the same brand used to kill Molinaro.

Monday, after Ivanic had detailed the slaying, the search was resumed and turned up a pistol. It was found near the bank of Pine Creek.

The weapon is a Spanish-made automatic and Haukedahl said it and the cartridges would be sent to the FBI laboratory in Washington, D.C., for ballistic comparison with the six bullets taken from Molinaro's body.

said the third stage of Russia's Sputnik III weighed 7,500 pounds and its payload, or the satellite which is still in orbit, weighs 3,000 pounds.

Pope John Delivers Christmas Plea for Peace, World Unity

Pontiff Asks Men of Faith to Put Aside Military, Violent Thoughts

Vatican City — Pope John XXIII in his first Christmas address urged the world to Christian unity and peace today, but he said his plea was not likely to be heard in communist-ruled lands.

The 77-year-old supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic church asked men of faith to put aside military and violent thoughts.

Then in the next breath he warned them to be vigilant "in the night that is darkening" and ready to defend Christian principles against the "insidiousness of the enemies of God"—a clear reference to atheistic communism.

High Tribute
The pope paid high tribute to his predecessor, the late Pope Pius XII, who during his long reign delivered 19 Christmas messages to the world in which he invariably pleaded for peace and Christian unity.

Pope John, who was elected Oct. 28 to succeed Pius XII, said his predecessor's Christmas speeches and the 20 volumes of his other written and spoken words "are a monument to his wisdom and his apostolic fervor."

The new pontiff said man's unwillingness to submit to the grace of God in unity and peace "was the most terrible problem of human history and of the lives of individual men and people."

Broken Unity
He emphasized the Roman Catholic church's intense desire for unification with the orthodox church, which numbers more than 125 million members including millions in the communist bloc.

Pope John said the broken unity of "the hereditary of Christ" continues to be a grave problem, but that his own efforts would be unflagging toward "those dear, separated brothers who bow to the name of Christ and read the holy Bible."

Then the pope added, in a sharp criticism of communist-ruled lands, "in many parts of the world there is no ear for this invitation (to unity and peace)." In those areas, he said, the "most sacred concepts are suffocated or have been suppressed."

workers in the steel, aluminum and meat packing industries. These workers have labor contracts providing for semi-annual wage adjustments based on the government index. Another group of 80,000 workers in scattered industries, including some municipal transportation systems, will receive varying increases under a quarterly adjustment. Auto Price Boosts The labor department said that in November new cars being sold to the public averaged 6.4 per cent higher than in October. This rise reflected October discounts on the sale of 1958 models and the November sale of 1959 models. New cars are selling at 4.2 per cent higher prices now than new cars sold in November, 1957. Clague said the new living cost rise was not much to worry over. He said the government index has actually been stable during the last six to eight months, without rising or falling much in any single month.

The government price expert also said the present price situation is not one to bother people from a standpoint of inflationary danger, but, he said it is something to watch. Clague forecast that living costs will continue to vary only a bit up or down during the winter. He said food is trending downward while other living cost items are moving slightly upward.

achieving more or less of a balance. In November food prices declined three-tenths of 1 per cent. It was their fourth consecutive monthly decline. There were seasonal reductions for meats, fresh fruits and eggs. Food prices still were nearly 3 per cent higher than a year ago but 2 per cent lower than last July.

Clothing prices rose seasonally while housing costs, along with reading and recreation, movie admissions, medical care and newspapers advanced in price.

Brand Story Of Slaying As a Hoax

Montgomery, Ala.—The Albert Patterson murder case was closed again yesterday when Alabama abandoned a hoax the confession of a Virginia convict.

Atty. Gen. John Patterson issued the following statement about the new angle to his father's slaying in 1954: "I have had investigated the statement of Calvin W. Pruitt in which he claims to have killed my father. It has been established that his story is untrue and a hoax."

One of Slayers "I say once more that we have one of my father's murderers, Albert Fuller, serving a life sentence in Kilby prison." The attorney general's statement came a week after he sent two assistants to Virginia to investigate the signed confession of Pruitt, 28, who is serving sentences totaling 170 years for murder, robbery and burglary. Pruitt, whose wife and two children live in Haleyville, Ala., claimed he killed Albert Patterson in a robbery attempt while a debt-ridden soldier stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Five-Year-Old Caroline Hendricks, who spent a night wandering in the mountains near San Bernardino, Calif., after falling over a cliff, sits with her mother at a San Bernardino doctor's office. She and her brother, 6, left the Hendricks' weekend cabin for a hike. The brother returned to the cabin after the girl fell but was unable to show searchers where the accident happened.

Teenage Parents Doing Fine With Triplet Sons

Redlands, Calif.—When the stork blesses two teenagers with three bouncing sons, all in one swoop, how's it go? "Fine," says Linda Voss, 17. "Fine," says David, her 19-year-old husband. And the triplet boys? Well, three can't bawl any louder than one, say their dad and mom. Or—not much, anyway. There's no sleeping, David admits, through a 3-alarm clamor at 2 a.m. So he gets up, when he can't avoid it, to supply the third hand which Linda sometimes can use.

No Family Crises In the three months since Johnnie, David and Stevie arrived, things have gone well. No major illnesses, no family crises. But the young parents have made some changes. David left college and is working for a dairy. Linda is studying at home, between household chores, so she can graduate from Redlands high next June.

The mother has her hands full. But they're good babies. "They sleep most of the time," she says. It's no breeze to take on a full-blown family on $300 a month. The couple got a big boost, though, from a television program on which Linda appeared. She won a year's supply of baby food, clothing for the boys and a number of other useful items, including a year's diaper service.

Linda feels her role isn't much different from that of most young mothers. All The Same "Three or one," she shrugs, "it's all the same." The boys look just alike to her. Former Goodland Aide Seeks High Court Position Menomonie—Willis E. Donley, legal adviser to the late Gov. Walter S. Goodland, Monday night became the fifth announced candidate for the Wisconsin Supreme Court seat held by Justice E. Harold Hallows. Donley, who has practiced law here for 25 years, served in the Wisconsin legislature many years ago. He's a graduate of the Marquette university law school. Justice Hallows, who has announced he will seek a full 10-year term in the spring election was appointed to the court earlier this year by Gov. Vernon Thomson. Other candidates are Bruno Bitker, Christ Alexopoulos and William S. Clark, all of Milwaukee.

Russian Ship Leaves U. S. on Next Leg of Its IGY Exploration

San Francisco—The Russian oceanographic ship Vityaz left last night on a new leg of her voyage of Pacific exploration in the international geophysical year. The 67 Soviet scientists aboard left a foot-high stack of data for fellow scientists at the University of California's Scripps institute as a parting gift. The Vityaz is scheduled to sail down the California coast on her way to Hawaii, where she is due Feb. 5.

Mother Denies She Plotted Kin's Death

Mrs. Duncan Says Men Were Trying To Blackmail Her

Ventura, Calif.—"It's a lie, of course," says Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan of the charge that she hired two men to kill her daughter-in-law. "Those men were trying to blackmail me."

Authorities say 5-times wed Mrs. Duncan, 54, hired the murder of pretty Olga Kupczyk Duncan, 30, because she was fiercely jealous of the Canadian nurse who married her son, a Santa Barbara lawyer.

Feels Terrible "I feel terrible about it," Mrs. Duncan told newsmen yesterday, when they asked how she felt when informed that Olga's body had been found in a shallow grave 20 miles from Ventura. "I liked her and I believe she liked me."

But Augustine Baldonado, 25, who led sheriff's deputies to the spot where Olga Duncan was buried—perhaps alive—said Mrs. Duncan offered him and Luis Moya, 22, $6,000 to kill the woman.

"She told us she had acid and pills to do the job with," said Baldonado. "She wanted us to use the acid on her face, and said this would destroy her dental work, so she could not be identified." They did not carry out this part of the plan, however, he said.

Baldonado said Moya went to Olga's Santa Barbara apartment late at night on Nov. 17 and told the nurse a friend of his was sick in a car outside. The nurse, clad in a bathrobe, went to the car. "I was lying on the floor in the back," said Baldonado. "When she opened the door, I grabbed her, and Moya hit her with the gun."

The nurse put up a fierce struggle as they drove toward a lonely mountain pass near the coast, Baldonado said, and he and Moya beat her with their fists and the gun, and choked her repeatedly. They scooped out a grave with their bare hands and put her in it.

Coroner Virgil L. Payton said she died of asphyxia "either through strangulation or by being buried alive." The pretty nurse was five months pregnant when she died.

Mrs. Duncan branded Baldonado's story a complete lie. She said her son, Frank Duncan, 30, represented a man charged with receiving stolen guns. She said the man's wife demanded the return of a $500 legal fee when her husband was jailed for the offense.

Zoo Attendant Has Brush With Death With Huge Elephant

Kansas City—An annoyed elephant at the Kansas City zoo pushed an attendant against a wall yesterday but released the man at the head keeper's shouted orders. Attendant Charles Kent, 28, suffered shock and a gash under his left eye. "He got off lucky," said William T. A. Cully, zoo director.

Cully said Kent, not a regular elephant keeper, was told to water the elephant's with a hose, while staying outside the cage. However, Kent went inside and, when two elephants crowded in for water he tried to push one away. That's when Mr. Temple, a 3,500-pound Indian elephant, turned on him.

Spent Last 42 Years of His Life in Bed

Hamlin, W. Va.—George Lacy, a man of the mountains who went to bed in 1916 and never got up, will be buried today.

Why did he spend the last 42 of his 71 years in bed? Nobody knows for sure. A neighbor said George got mad over sale of a pet. A sister blamed the measles.

Farmer Cal Escue, who lives in the remote Ezekiel Branch section of Lincoln county near the Lacys, said George threatened to go to bed if his father sold a pet calf. His father went ahead and sold it. So George went to bed.

George's sister Gertie didn't see it that way. She said George was "a big, stout fellow" before the whole family came down with the measles one year.

He followed those ridges and made a regular path up and down them hunting. He loved to hunt possum, squirrel and coon. He was strong as a young bull and never sick or poorly.

"They put us to bed but we all got up later—that is, all except George. He couldn't get up. He lost his talk too. A lot of people thought he was just acting contrary like, but I knew better. He stayed in bed when spring plowing time came."

"Pap, he knew something was wrong with George then because he was not a lazy boy. Well, sir, I have never known what was wrong with George, except that the measles did it."

A week ago, George became ill, possibly with pneumonia. Sunday night he died in the bed he lay in 42 years.

60-Year Stage, Screen Star Dead at 82

Los Angeles—Actor H. B. Warner, a familiar figure on stage and screen for 60 years is dead at 82.

Warner, who broke a hip in a fall three weeks ago, died at the motion picture country home.

He was a native of St. John's Woods, London, England, and started on the stage there at 7 with his actor father, Charles Warner. His first starring role in this country was in the Broadway production of "Alias Jimmy Valentine" in 1906. He came to Hollywood in 1926 for one of his most famous portrayals, that of Christ in Cecil B. DeMille's "King of Kings." His last film was another DeMille picture, "The Ten Commandments." In between were scores of Hollywood's top movies.

recent weeks of a possible increase to 4 or 4½ cents a gallon to help meet rising costs of federal highway construction.

Sen Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said he doubted even the higher postage, gas tax and service charges mentioned by the president would produce a balanced budget if spending reaches a $77 billion level.

He said he estimated the president faces a choice between abandoning some of the programs the administration has endorsed in the past or recommending tax increases in addition to the new sources of income mentioned in Eisenhower's statement.

Republican leaders rushed out statements welcoming Eisenhower's budget-balancing plans, but said nothing about spending cuts or higher taxes. "It is refreshing to realize that the budget is in balance, and it is up to congress to keep it that way," said Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., (Mass), House Republican leader. "The economy must be maintained on a sound financial basis to protect the future stability of our country."

Similar emphasis on financial stability came from Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the GOP policy committee, and Republican National Chairman Meade Alderson.

and trust provisions from County Judge Stanley A. Staidl.

Values Changed

One of the difficulties posed by the will is that $1 in 1909 bought more than $1 will today. Also, the trust was drawn when the estate was about $150,000 and it grew immensely over the years.

For instance, Peabody specified that a home was to be built for "all worthy, indigent, elderly women," which must be had to be "a model institution of its kind," costing no more than $25,000.

Now, you might build a home for $25,000, but chances are it wouldn't accommodate very many "worthy, indigent, elderly women."

At any rate, Judge Staidl ruled that the VNA was best fitted to build the home and ruled that the VNA, as other beneficiaries of the will, would receive more than the specified amount and could expend it on the building. In essence, Judge Staidl ruled that Peabody's intent was to get an elderly persons' home, not to limit its cost to $25,000.

Site Donated

So, the VNA has begun plans for an elderly persons' home to be built on the old Jefferson school site, donated by the city. The VNA's board tentatively has planned a 1-story home to cost about $500,000. No date for construction of the home has been set.

The Appleton park system has for a number of years included Bellaire park, but the area has been relatively unimproved. Peabody's will instructed that the board was to make a park and driveway in the area, along Green Bay road. One condition is that the city provide a permanent endowment of at least $1,200 for maintaining the park and drive.

The park board began its action on developing the park and drive by hiring an architect and offering plans for improving Bellaire park.

Plans Now Set

The park board now plans to develop the park from a point just north of the E. Pacific street bridge to the Fox river. Land fill will be placed in the river and a retaining wall built to enlarge the area and to construct a turnaround for Green Bay road. Family picnic areas will be planned in the area south of the Pacific street bridge and a city playground will be built just south of Rankin street.

Lawrence college was left money for improving the grounds and for building an infirmary — to be known as the Emma C. Peabody infirmary. About $120,000 is available for building the infirmary, with the remaining $14,500 for landscaping work on the campus. Plans for the infirmary have not been made.

Peabody also left to the college the Peabody homestead on S. Lawe street. His daughter shortly after her father's death sold the college her life interest in the property. It was used as a women's residence for years and now houses upper classmen.

YMCA Building

Peabody left the YMCA money to build a building, stipulating the organization had to raise a similar amount within two years of receiving the estate funds.

However, the YMCA built its building not long after Peabody's death. Judge Staidl ruled that it was Peabody's intent to aid the YMCA in building quarters, hence the funds could be used on its existing facility. The YMCA has

U. S. Will Scrap Its B36 Bombers

Tucson, Ariz. — All but a few of the only American airplanes which can drop hydrogen bombs on Russia and return home without refueling are being junked.

The mighty B36s are obsolete. The 10-engine bombers are no match for supersonic missiles.

A few of the big planes will be kept in service at Carswell air force base. The rest of them are being assembled at Davis - Monthan AFB, where they'll be scrapped to salvage the 43,000 pounds of aluminum and a quantity of other valuable metals in each plane.

The air force built more than 300 of the B36s at a cost of $3 million per plane. It won't say how many are to be junked, or how much money the government hopes to reclaim from the planes.

Capt. H. H. Twillman, who has charge of Arizona aircraft storage for the air materiel command, said, however, "we compare it to what you would get when you pay $5,000 for an automobile and sell it for scrap 15 years later."

The B36 once was the most deadly weapon of the air force. It can carry 84,000 pounds of bombs and fly non-stop in 28 hours from Maine to Japan.

John H. Neller, the third trustee, died in August, 1956, while the trust was being liquidated. He was not replaced. He was an employee of the Pettibone - Peabody company from the turn of the century until it was sold to H. C. Prange, much of the time as secretary and general manager of the store. He became a trustee in 1929.

The Peabody will was drawn by the late Paul V. Cary, former Appleton lawyer and the father of Paul V. Cary, 219 S. Rankin street.

Beautify School Grounds

The board of education was not hampered by the will's specifications, since Peabody simply wanted the money he left Appleton's public schools spent on beautifying the grounds. Some of the money has been spent and the rest will be allotted to both existing and new schools.

In addition to the public agencies, Peabody's estate paid out $40,000 to former employees of the Pettibone - Peabody store. A specific bequest of $1,000 to the Appleton Cemetery association was one of the first paid, since no ambiguity about it existed in the will.

During Mrs. Emma Peabody Harper's (Peabody's daughter) life, the trust paid her $277,450. Her heirs, Mrs. Truman Richmond, Sr., and Mrs. Jerome Castle received $3,600 each and Miss Maude Richmond received $22,431.

Far-Sighted Man

Although many of the specifications made by Peabody for the public bequests seem odd in the light of today's world, he was a remarkably far-sighted individual.

He saw that a visiting nurses service would be needed (such a bequest was made in the will and the money was added to that of the elderly persons' home bequest under Judge Staidl's ruling.)

Peabody saw the need for a YMCA building here, an infirmary at Lawrence and the need for park area as the city grew. Among the provisions accounting for growth of the trust was Peabody's instructions that the ownership of the store he founded could be sold, and it was—giving the flexibility for trustees to invest the money in less risky propositions.

There is no other example in Appleton's history of a single individual contributing such a large financial boost for the general public.

Final discharge of the trustees is set for Jan. 16 before Judge Staidl.

Wise Men Reach End of Trip, Kneel to Adore Christ Child

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religious Writer

The house stood against a hillside. It was small, made of sun-hardened mud bricks. It had no windows. A narrow path led to the doorway, hung with a heavy wool cloth. Beside it leaned a woodman's axe.

As the wayfarers approached, the only sound was the crunching of camel hooves on the red gravel. It seemed quite loud. Melchior's lined face tensed. Neither he nor his two companions spoke. They stared ahead fixedly.

This was the place. This was their goal. This was the star-touched habitation.

In front of the house, smoke curled from an earthen oven. A waterjar sat nearby, and a millstone. Off to one side of the house was a vegetable patch, and on the other, a little shed built against a cypress tree.

Wood shavings littered the ground beneath the open shelter, and on a work table lay knives, wedges, bow-drill, adze, mallet and other carpenter's tools, along with some partly carved yokes and axles.

Travel-spent old Melchior held himself erect, his senses on edge. So here the long odyssey ended—in Bethlehem.

Balthasar, and then by Gaspar, young and beardless.

The floor was beaten clay, with a sheepskin mat in the center, and some low benches and utensils against the wall. In a corner, a shirt-clad infant played in a wooden crib.

The quiet, young mother, Mary, picked Him up, smiled faintly and sat down on a bench, displaying Him on her knee. He was a year and some months of age. He looked up with wide-eyed interest at the visitors.

Melchior's lips parted wordlessly. Tears in his eyes. Then he and the others knelt on the dirt floor in reverence and worship. They had found their King. They had entered the presence of God's Son.

Child's Innocence
There, in the ordinary beauty and innocence of a healthy toddler, providence had provided its ultimate message to man. How often the greatest truth is clothed in simplest array.

To recognize it required humility, the knowledge that knows its lack of knowledge. And this was the character of the magi.

While exalted scientists sought a world in space, they sought a world in time. They aspired, not to mere appearances, but to meanings. Through faith, they saw intuitively what others never see. Many see the stars. But

They saw the star of Bethlehem.

Bowed Head
Mary sat with bowed head, murmuring over each gift. "Thanks be to God."

Tradition says the royal magi had brought huge coffers of pearls, silk hangings and other luxuries as intended presents, but so as not to offend the dignity of the poor, gave only what they first touched as they reached in their chests.

After their departure, their misgivings about King Herod were intensified by ominous dreams. So they spurned his request to return to him and identify the Child.

Instead of taking the usual route home, northward through Jerusalem to Damascus, they went another way. Some accounts suggest they circled south toward Petra, crossing the copper-colored mountains of Moab.

Other reports say they slipped northward along the coast, departing by ship from the port of Tarsus in Cilicia, where Herod's troops, in vengeful pursuit, later wrecked the whole harbor.

Meanwhile, Herod also wielded his wordly power and cunning to overcome a child. He sent legionaries to slay all Bethlehem children under 2, "according to the time" of the star learned earlier from the wise men.

But the outcome of that clash shakes history. The seemingly helpless Child won. Joseph and Mary fled with Him to Egypt.

Avoid Herod

The magi also escaped back toward the rising sun, back to the elevated plateau of Persia, to the vineyards of Shiraz, back to the land of hornless cattle and poetry.

Tradition says the magi later built a chapel on Mt. Vaus, where they had first seen the star, and that they met there each year thereafter. They are said to have become bishops.

ordained by the Apostle Thomas.

It is recounted that their bodies, after they died, were removed from Persia to Constantinople, then to Milan, and in 1163, to Cologne, where they rest now at the Cathedral of Cologne.

The Middle Ages claim that the magi were kings, and they were, in a sense. They were sovereigns in the realm of wisdom, a royal heritage, be- hold to its Divine Author.

They were far away when Jesus was born, when Christ came to renew life. But God gave the sign. And as is al- ways the case, they could stay, or journey. To average minds, their decision was fol- lowed. They acted with utter aban- don. But despite the risks, the star, and that they met there imponderables and the dis- tance, those who sought found.

Operation Score - An American Triumph

Not long ago Americans were gasping and exclaiming over the announcement that the Russians had put Sputnik III, weighing 2,929 pounds, into orbit.

It was a startling thing, in fact it was considered an almost unbelievable accomplishment since at the same time American scientists were reporting failures in their attempts to put a little 30-pound satellite about the size of a grapefruit into orbit. Well, if the Russian accomplishment was as great as it was acknowledged to be, what of Operation Score as the Air Force refers to its big 4-ton satellite which is now out in space circling the earth once every 100 minutes?

The people around the earth have been astounded at the American success. Whereas the Russian success was greeted with surprise around the world, the comments often were also tinged with fear. In the present instance, however, the American triumph carries no slightest implication of a threat to any of the peaceful peoples of the world. This fact is apparent in the comments that have been reported from many countries. The American triumph is welcomed as most peoples know it will never be used to terrorize others.

Aside from the huge weight of the satellite, there are other things even more significant about it. It was turned into its path of orbit by an internal guidance system which is something very new in this field. Ordinarily satellites have been shot on pre-set courses, like cannonballs. With sufficient velocity and the proper direction they automatically went into orbit. The fact that the big American satellite was directed into orbit by an internal guidance mechanism suggests that our scientists have succeeded in the first step toward space navigation.

Only a short time ago an Atlas missile was fired 6,325 miles over a prescribed course on the Atlantic. The test last Thursday night also was an Atlas missile and it is the complete answer to the boasts of the Soviets that they have a missile capable of carrying some 8,000 miles; and it also answers their slurs about the "lemon size" U. S. satellites.

It is not surprising, of course, with the great success the American scientists have attained that they are now talking about putting a man aboard a similar satellite and sending him out into space to report on whatever he may find there. This may be a long time away but it is sure to come and it is proper that planning should be made in that direction. The satellite called Operation Score is sending back information over two radio frequencies and the things that the scientists learn from these reports, as well as the information they have gathered from similar reports from previous satellites, have helped us to make tremendous advances in recent months.

It seems absolutely certain now that we will be able to send more and better equipment into space in future satellites. Very soon we will know exactly what the conditions are out in space and what is necessary to permit a man to live there and perhaps to return to Earth.

It is worth noting, although it was certainly not unexpected, that President Eisenhower in commenting on the success of this satellite remarked that it is a distinct step forward which will open new opportunities to the United States and to all mankind. There is no doubt that it may prove to be of great military value, but it is well to look much farther ahead to when the space experiments of today may help us to so enrich the world that it will be unnecessary for people to fight over material things. That would be the greatest gift space exploration could give to mankind.

Six-Year High Schools?

President Eisenhower's suggestion that one or two more years be added to the present secondary school program is not remarkably new but it spotlights the ever increasing problem of providing educational opportunities for more and more young people in an ever more complex society.

There was a time when a man could say, as Leonardo de Vinci is reported to have remarked, that he knew everything which had been discovered or invented by civilized man. Today it is doubtful that any one person can know everything about even one section of one field of knowledge. And just as the amount of information has increased, so has the need to transmit it.

Specifically, of course, the sciences have skyrocketed in compiling the kind of material which high school students have proved themselves capable of learning. Physics should now be a 2-year course with electronics at least a semester in itself. American history should be taught, and perhaps required, for at least two years. World history today can be only the merest outline as flitted over in a rocket ship. With the added emphasis on spelling and grammar to be required of all students, there isn't enough time in four years of English to teach a great deal of literature or self-expression. Two years of a foreign language are probably inadequate except as a minimum base for college language study.

All these lacks are not the fault of the schools, too many frills or too many social activities for students. Purely and simply, there is too much to teach well in the time allotted.

A change to 5- or 6-year high schools must be a gradual thing, however, with plenty of study in advance. The costs of public schools are now levied increasingly at the state level but the local community must pay a large share. There is little sign that such schools would remove the burden from the crowded colleges except temporarily. Rather than being satisfied with more high school, many students at a more mature age might decide to get more education. And there is still the problem of some youngsters who hardly belong in a 4-year high school today.

Nevertheless a longer secondary school program should be considered for the future. It might be easier to plan for continuity and completeness under such a system, instead of by providing 2-year or junior colleges.

Government and Rights

A strange and forbidding sentence appeared in an editorial published in the current edition of the Journal of Wisconsin Education about the financial problems of Wisconsin schools and the aspirations of educators in the new Wisconsin legislature.

"Government services are entitled to a share of the productive wealth of the nation," said the magazine which is the organ of the Wisconsin Education association.

Let us go over that again. Government is "entitled" to grow as the national wealth is increased. No reference to the need for growth. No reference to the people's wishes. The assumption is that there is a formula, devised by some unknown power, that says the national wealth should be distributed in perpetually rigid ways.

Entitled? This is a strange idea indeed for an educational journal, and in a country where governments derive their powers from the governed.

Needs of Cities Deserve Federal Government Aid

From The Buffalo Evening News

Ideas for more financial aid for cities from the federal government compose a familiar refrain in American political life. Yet the plight of the cities lends them increasing substance. The latest such appeal comes from the American Municipal association, representing 1200 mayors and other city officials.

Buffalo's plight is typical of that of every major U. S. city. Without large-scale federal aid, many of the community's most vital programs — including urban renewal, airport modernization and harbor improvement — will be severely or fatally cut back.

On urban renewal alone, according to redevelopment consultants, Buffalo will need about $100,000,000 in federal grants over the next ten years. This is not mere book-pasing by the city. For the local investment in the same program will total $50,000,000.

Ideally, all urban needs would be met completely at home. Realistically, they can't be. Nor is there much likelihood of greater help from the state governments. The states are far too competitive for industry nowadays to wish to add new local-aid programs to their respective tax burdens.

It is hardly necessary to point out that the federal government has budget problems — immense ones — of its own. Even if it didn't, not every municipal demand for greater federal aid could be justified responsibly. There is little question, however, that urban needs as such have yet to receive the federal attention rightly due them — especially in relation to farming, veterans assistance, reclamation and other domestic programs.

With almost two-thirds of the American population now living in or near cities, urban needs deserve a higher priority than the nation as a whole has so far given them.

Christmas Challenges Our Values and Our Attitudes

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Our celebration of Christmas frightens me. Why? you say.

You attempt to set me straight by telling me that the many traditions which make up our celebration of Christmas are not frightening, but are warm and beautiful. You ask what could be more pleasant than watching a pajama-clad tot set coffee and cookies on the hearth for Santa. You call to mind the sight of a plump little boy sneaking down the stairs on Christmas morn and becoming wide-eyed with delight at the sight of a huge pile of presents under the tree. You remind me of the savorious Christmas dinner. You ask what is frightening about singing Christmas carols to the little old lady-down the street. You conclude by stating that nothing could be more beautiful or more conducive to setting one's mind at peace by reading of the nativity, the harmonious sound of a choir or the soft tolling of bells at a Christmas candle-light service.

You're right, I answer. The traditions of Christmas are not frightening in themselves. They are beautiful institutions. What does frighten me about the traditional observation of Christmas are the questions it raises—questions which challenge our values and attitudes.

The main question is this: Are our attitudes and values in observing Christmas traditions such that these customs become symptoms of a moral disease — a disease characterized by a selfish apathy to the needs of others? In other words, it asks if, when tearing open our Christmas presents, we ever transcend ourselves and think of those people who lack such necessities of life as clothing and shelter. It asks if we think of the masses of people who do not consume as many calories per day as we throw out after our Christmas feast. It asks us if, when singing carols to the little old lady down the street, we call to mind those lands where due to poor living conditions and a lack of medical care, the average life expectancy is 42. It asks us if at Christmas vespers it ever enters our minds that there are many who don't have an opportunity to hear the Word of God.

Finally, it asks this: If we do not think beyond ourselves while observing Christmas, are we ever capable of doing so? If not, why not? Is it because of man's natural state of sin, a personal failing, or is this selfish apathy a disease peculiar to America? What could we do to counteract such a disease in order to prevent the rather frightening picture of Christians in a historically Christian nation celebrating Christmas without deep humanitarian principles?

Wants Picnic Fans To Pay Fee for Using State Parks

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Re: Mrs. Geenen's letter of Dec. 16 on $2 camping fee. I, too, have been trying to follow the proposals of the conservation department, but I've missed any reference to a $2 camping fee. However, there has been mention of a $2 fee for picnickers, as a car sticker, and good for a season, in our state parks. Almost every state park camper should be aware that our slightly misguided conservation department furnishes the best and most facilities in the picnic area.

Looking Backward

Programme for Christmas Eve

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Dec. 20, 1879.

On Christmas Eve, at the Methodist church, will be given an exceptional entertainment of great interest.

The programme comprises a beautiful and appropriate Christmas service of song, scripture and recitations by the choir, the Sunday school and young people of the church. The programme will close with an organ recital.

After the literary and musical portions, His Jolly Highness, Santa Claus, will appear in his royal robes and distribute gifts to all his loyal subjects. The presents will go to good little boys and girls and those old bad boys and girls who have friends at Court to arrange for them.

To meet this expense, the Revenue Officers will levy a small tax of 10 cents — an

Learning that Ike's voice would broadcast from a satellite, one woman exclaimed: "Dear me, I hope they don't let him add lib."

Real reason for Ike's voice in a satellite. See Dulles wouldn't let him go to the summit, so Ike settled for a fly-over.

Kohler Portrait Is Called Poor Likeness

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Note from the cuff of a political reporter:

Mrs. R. H. Grewe of Eau Claire, one of the state's most charming lady politicians, will have considerable support for the vacant women's vice chairmanship of the Republican party. Most of the viewers at the unveiling ceremony at the capitol last week privately concluded that the portrait of former Gov. Walter J. Kohler is not a good likeness, whatever it may be as art. Judging from the volume of Republican complaints about his work as a publicist, the Farmers' Union Robert Moses ought to have a pretty good claim upon the new Democratic state administration for a reward for campaign services.

Wyngaard

Legislators two years ago voted money to provide two new elevators in the legislative wings of the statehouse, but they won't be in service for their enjoyment for the 1959 session. The period since Nov. 4 has been the lightest in six years for Sen. Proxmire's publicity men. They have been virtually silent lately. One of the common complaints of conservation commission critics is that the commission cannot handle its work in one day's meeting each month. The last meeting lasted just under three hours.

PAT FOR WATSON

Gov.-elect Gaylord Nelson thought State Supt. George Watson made one of the most effective budget presentations during the budget hearings lately, and told him so. The tendency of legislators to fatten their perquisites continues. The latest move is to keep a couple of secretaries employed in each house between sessions, so that legislators coming to Madison on chores for their constituents can dictate their mail. Assemblyman George Molinaro of Kenosha is reportedly so confident of election to the assembly and often campsites are located blocks from things like playground equipment, beaches, and scenic lake frontage, to mention a few.

Yet picnickers use the facilities mostly on weekends, for only a few hours, while campers spend 24 hours and days in the parks.

Therefore, I say, let the picnickers share the financial burden of our state parks in a seasonal $2 fee. Such a method works in other states. Our parks would have funds for maintenance and improvement, and perhaps the camping areas would share in the general improvement.

Give campers better facilities, have them pay for what they do get, and we should all see an improvement in our state parks.

Mrs. George Ney

speakership when the Democrats take over there in January that he is refusing to make "trades" with members who want particular committee assignments or chairmanships.

THOMSON RELAXED

The state government pays about $1,250,000 a year for printing of books, reports, pamphlets and other materials in mountainous quantities. Gov. Thomson has appeared to his friends to be better tempered and relaxed since his election defeat than he did during his two years in office. The state traffic patrolmen operate at a cost of 5.2 cents a mile. A rising interest in state political affairs, no doubt occasioned by the impending change of administration, has brought some recruits to the state capitol press galleries.

There is virtually no chance for modifying the daylight saving time law by shortening the period of fast time. The sponsor of the legislation, the Farmers Union, actually betrays its weakness by asking for an amendment. What it really wants is a repeal of the law. Attorney Gen. Stewart Honck has been asking the advice of friends about running for the state supreme court seat in the spring. Another prospective candidate is Willis Donley of Menomonie, one-time Democratic politician, lately a Republican.

Gov.-elect Nelson is trying to find ways to decline gracefully the bundles of speaking invitations he is getting since the election.

ENDORSEMENTS

Endorsement of legislation by the Legislative Council, for all the publicity it engenders, is less meaningful as a result of the recent elections. The Democrats who will be in control of the assembly are not likely to be impressed by the wishes of the Republican-controlled Council. The bellicose statements by Sen. Allan Busby, leader of the senate "mavericks," are out of character for the legislator who is the mildest of men on the senate floor. Sen. Robert P. Knowles of New Richmond, one of the few Republicans from upper Wisconsin surviving in the legislature, has already resolved to run for a new term in 1960.

A primary election for the state supreme court in the spring is already virtually assured by the number of candidates in prospect. Sen. Clifford Krueger of Merrill, author of the 2 a.m. tavern closing bill for the resort areas which was vetoed by Gov. Thomson two years ago, is prepared to re-visit the measure. If it passes, Gov. Nelson will veto it too. Sen. Robert Travis of Platteville, who will be returned to the Republican majority leadership in the state senate, has sold his dry-cleaning business and is considering new employment.

Suburbs Like Annexations

From The Greenwood, S. C. Index-Journal

The Columbia State comments that it backs annexation of suburban areas to the city because it feels the benefits are 2-fold, both to those who enter the city and to the city itself.

It then makes this observation: "Results are best evidence, so we cite that not in a single case where suburban territory has become part of the city proper has there been expressed a desire on the part of those affected to get a municipal divorce."

Our Lady of Angels

A Baltimore mother of four, Mrs. Evelyn Bodier, wrote the following in consolation for the parents of the children killed in the fire at Chicago's Our Lady of the Angels school.

God was in need of Angels
To walk his streets of gold
To share with Him, His Kingdom
And riches far untold . . .

He has so many priceless gems
Frankincense and such
But He lacked a few more angels
To give that special touch

He searched this wide world over,
Through hills and vales and higher,
And then He found His Angels
In a big Chicago fire.

He had so many prospects
He knew not what to do
So He only took a handful
A very sacred few.

To reign with Him in glory
To share with Him His Throne
To live forever in the sky
In that great land unknown.

So if He took your loved one,
Or even two or three
You'll get to share them all again
Throughout eternity.

So when your heart is heavy
And your grief seems hard to bear
Remember heaven's lovelier
Because your angels are there.

Aid Pours in For Family Hit In Sunday Fire

Banks, Chamber Working With Mayor In Fund Raising Effort

Kaukauna — Aid for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weyenberg who lost six children in a fire which destroyed their home early Sunday morning started pouring in Monday as word spread of the disaster fund started by Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon.

It was impossible to get an accurate tabulation of the amount of aid as Chamber of Commerce members and both city banks joined in supporting the campaign. Banks were accepting contributions while Chamber of Commerce members toured business establishments for donations.

Phone Pledges
Well over $100 was pledged the first day after the mayor made known his drive intentions. A large milk can standing on a corner near the fire scene was also used for contributions by many of the spectators and curious who visited the scene Sunday.

Women volunteers are manning an office phone in the municipal building to accept pledges. The phone was used from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Monday and will be manned the same hours today. Wednesday a person will be on hand to answer the phone from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Miss Carl Ryan, city stenographer, is handling calls during the day while women volunteers take evening calls. Phone number is Rockwell 6-2768.

Contributions can also be made by mailing directly to the Farmers and Merchants bank or Bank of Kaukauna with envelopes marked "Weyenberg disaster fund." Mayor Bayorgeon is also accepting calls at his home or office.

Moderates Control British Labor Party

Situation Much the Same as With Democratic Politics in U. S.

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

London — High Gaitskell has closed a civilized, highly decent but quite decisive hand around the British Labor party.

The party in short, is firmly in the grip of this leader of the British opposition — and all this is good news to the United States. Those who by American standards are labor extremists — specifically Anurin Bevan — are no longer able to raise much thunder on the left. The left-wing of the Labor party, of course, is not finished. But it has been driven back to a more moderate position by the realities of British politics.

Thus if the Labor party should oust the conservative government of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in the next elections, Gaitskell would come to power as a reasonable man, by our measurement, and not as any threat to the western alliance.

This correspondent recently estimated Prime Minister

Macmillan to be an excellent politician. At the risk of seeming now to be saying that everything here is simply peachy, it is necessary to record that Gaitskell, too, is a thoroughly grown-up, professional politician.

What has occurred in the Labor party is much the same as what has happened in the Democratic party at home. The moderates are in control. The old quasi-revolutionary spirit among labor has largely died away because of the vast improvement in the lives of the ordinary people, much as that spirit has gone from the Democratic party since the Roosevelt - Truman era.

Certainly, there are important differences between the Labor party here and the Democratic party. But having accepted these differences it may be fairly said that Gaitskell in London is in a party position not too dissimilar from that of the untitled Democratic chieftain at home, Lyndon B. Johnson, the senate majority leader.

In neither case have these more liberal colleagues any chance — or perhaps any real desire — to throw out the moderate leader. But neither leader — Sen. Johnson in Washington and Mr. Gaitskell in London — is wholly comfortable at suggestions from the left that he has become too soft with the opposition.

More Truly Boss

Perhaps the most important is that in British politics, the boss is more truly the boss of the party than can be the boss at home. Indeed, this may explain why Gaitskell is more relaxed than Johnson when party associates angrily and vainly urge him on to fights with the conservatives that would be very dramatic — but also very foolish.

But in deeper senses, the Gaitskell-Johnson equation is quite real. Each has been required by current history to draw back a little from previously more liberal views. Each understands that political leaders must do more than engage in stirring — and losing — battles. And each — as different as they are in many ways — symbolizes the whole story of the retreat on both shores of the Atlantic from the politics of protest of the 1930's.

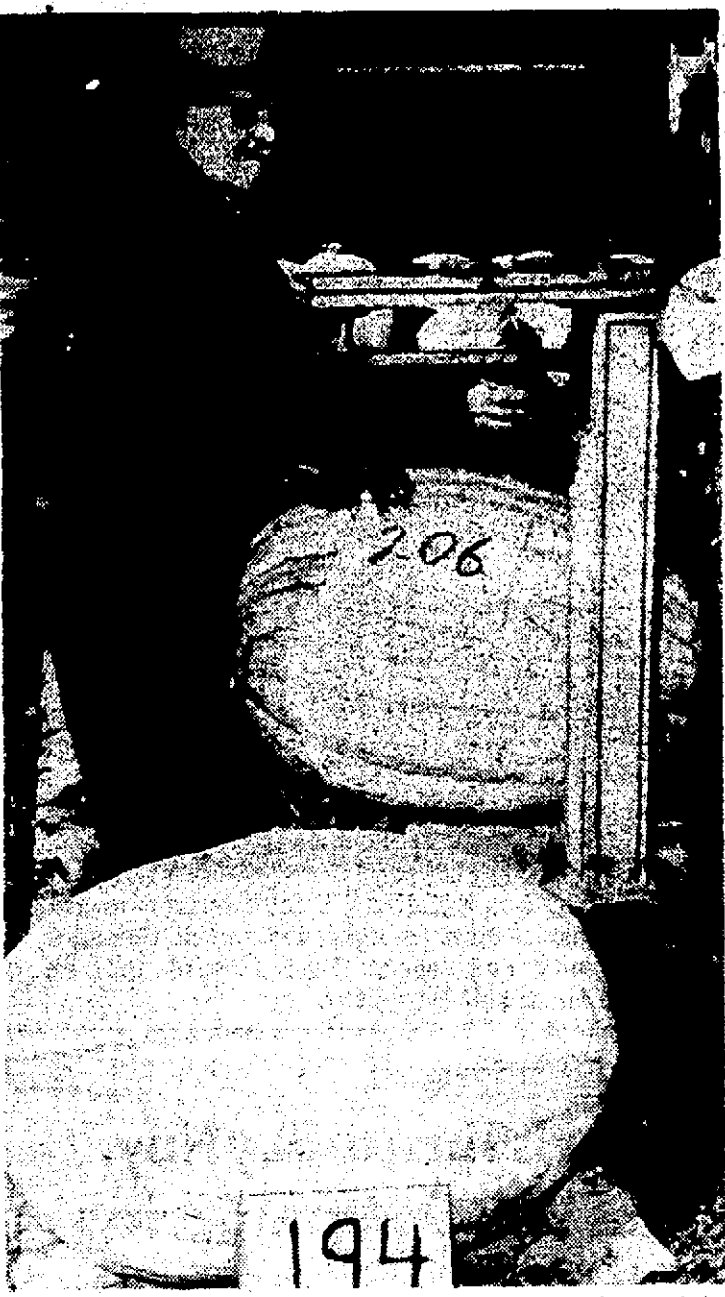

Gaitskell simply cannot believe that the trade unions in his party are always and automatically right. Johnson must be aware that Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman have departed, and that for good or ill we live in a new political world in which the quiet tone and the centrist policy are the facts of political life.

As is true, at home as between the Republican and Democratic parties, the old vast gulf between conservatives and liberals here has narrowed almost beyond belief. Nearly everybody, really, is in the center — the conservatives barely to the right of center and labor barely to the left of center.

Wishing everyone A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS!

May your days be bright with the joys of the season and its blessings follow you all year!

Cites Value Of Keeping DHIA Records

Plan Saves Money, Waupaca-Waushara Association Told

Waupaca — The value of dairy herd records and importance of a proposed dairy cattle marketing program were explained to Waupaca-Waushara county DHIA members during the annual meeting Monday at Waupaca.

Speaking on records was Ed Malcheski, university of Wisconsin dairyman, who told members that their records were worthless unless they were used to good advantage.

Malcheski stated that too many farmers, members of DHIA and like organizations, receive valuable data on herd production, but never use the records.

Culling Important

Culling unproductive cows is especially important, said the dairyman.

Malcheski pointed out that it was important for farmers to make sure they were getting most return per hundred dollars of feed invested in each cow. He said dairy records can show which cows are not paying their way and should be replaced with better producers.

While some farmers are faced with building herds, others are faced with cutting and selling stock, said Ken Peissig, director of the Badger Breeder's sales division.

Sales Total

Peissig stated that members of his cooperative sold 26,000 dairy cattle, 9,000 heifers and 18,000 calves in 1956. These were sold at about 10 percent less than the state average selling cost, said the director.

In order to assist farmers in a profitable sale of dairy animals, the breeders have devised several plans. One is a public sale plan which was tried on a large scale this year and proved successful. It included only registered Holsteins.

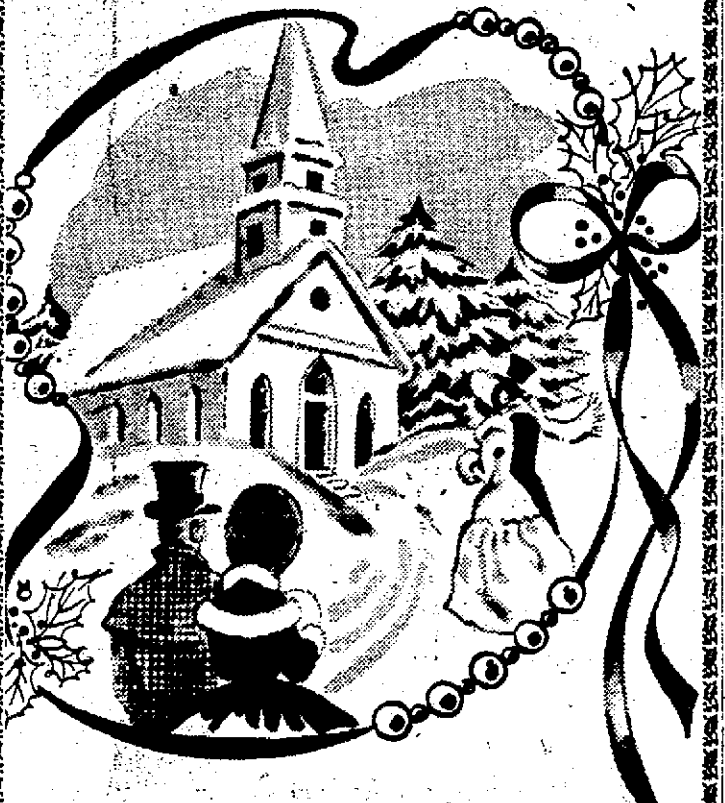

Private sales also make progress, according to Peissig.

2-County DHIA Unit Approves Rate Hike

Owner-Sampler Fee Set at $2, Standard, $5.50, at Annual Talks

Waupaca — A rate increase of $2 for owner-sampler herds and $5.50 for standard herds was approved by members of the Waupaca-Waushara county Dairy Herd Improvement association during its annual meeting.

Prior to the rate hike, the district group was the second lowest in state owner-sampler rates and the fifth lowest for standard herd charges.

The purpose of DHIA is to help members increase milk production through profitable testing of herd and individual cow production. Owner-sampler farmers keep their own milk samples while standard farmers have a DHIA fieldman gather milk samples.

Changes Made

Changes in the owner-sampler program included raising the cow base from 10 to 15 cows at with the rate going from $22 to $30 for the base herd. Additional cows are charged at a rate of $1.20 per cow, the same as before the rate rise.

Standard herds also went from a 10 to 15 cow base at a price increase of $16 for the base. They rose from $54 to $70. After the base payment, rates increased from $2.10 to $2.40 per cow.

The 2-county association lost $185 in 1957 and an additional $233 this year. Directors figured the rate change to offset the loss and provide additional benefits.

Still Low

Even with the increase in rates, the counties are still below the Portage Outagamie, Winnebago and Shawano averaged for owner-sampler rates and about equal to the four neighboring counties for the standard rate payments.

DHIA 2H owner sampler

Directors elected to replace Elmer Struck, Weyauwega, and Allen Ireton, Weyauwega, were Glen Pierce, Berlin, and Palmer Myhra, Iola. Other directors include Leo Ferg, Manawa, Roland Eager, Hancock, and Dennis Sexton, New London.

Financial Statement

The financial statement for the year shows a total operational cost of $16,806 with income return of $16,573, leaving a deficit of $233.

Fieldmen in the organization are Alton Wasrud and Ted Davidson.

In addition to servicing 342 owner sampler herds and 38 standard herds, the two county unit also handles records for 11 cheese factories. During an average month over 9,000 cows are tested for milk production.

Working with the DHIA are county agents, Joe Walker of Waupaca and Les Van Loon of Waushara county.

County Agent Says:

Winter Is Time to Buy Hay, Prices Will Go Up in Spring

BY JOHN E. POWERS
Outagamie County Agent

If you are going to need extra hay this winter, buy it now. Prices will be a lot higher next spring than they are now. You can figure out right now how much hay you have and how much you will need. The minimum hay requirement for a dairy cow is a pound of dry roughage per pound of body weight per day. This means an average of 14 to 15 pounds of dry hay equivalent for each cow every day. Of course, you can substitute silage for much of this hay requirement. If you have grass silage, it takes three pounds of silage to equal one pound of dry hay and you can substitute the silage for the hay directly. If you have corn silage, you can feed up to 75 pounds per cow per day, but be sure your ration is nutritionally balanced.

Producer Milk Prices Below Support Level

Prices Average About 11 Pct. Higher Than Parity

Washington — An agriculture department survey showed today that producer prices of milk used for manufacturing purposes have been running above the government's price support level this marketing year.

On April 1, the support rate was cut from 3.25 to 3.06 a hundred pounds. But prices, the department said, have averaged about 11 cents above the support level since that time.

Officials said this was because excess supplies of such milk have been smaller this year.

Wisconsin Farmers Use New Planting Method

Wheel Track Technique Saves Money, Time, Boosts Corn Production Total

Chicago—Some 200,000 acres of Wisconsin corn were planted by the new wheel track method this past summer, a University of Wisconsin soils specialist reported at the annual hybrid corn industry research conference here.

Art Peterson says that the acres of wheel track cornland doubled in one year.

With the new method a farmer goes over his cornfield only twice to get the crop planted—once with the plow and once with the planter. In traditional methods, farmers plow and cultivate several times before planting.

New Chemicals

Many farmers are combining the wheel track method with new chemical herbicides to kill weeds, he said. They can then eliminate additional trips over the field to cultivate the weeds.

With the wheel track method the corn is planted in the packed area made by the tractor wheels as it passes over the rough plowed ground.

Peterson listed several advantages of the wheel track method. He said the rough loose soil absorbs water readily, decreasing runoff and soil erosion. The field is plowed in the spring for the new method so the old hay and pasture fields go through winter with a sod cover that checks erosion.

He said freshly plowed soil usually contains enough moisture for fast seed sprouting. Under traditional methods the soil dries out so fast that corn germinates slowly unless it gets rain soon after planting.

Cuts Costs

Elimination of disking and harrowing, he said, cuts field and labor costs up to $7 an acre.

Peterson says you can adapt machinery now on the farm to either two or four row corn planting for the new method. Wheels must be arranged on the tractor to pack down four evenly spaced rows.

It is critical that corn be seeded soon after plowing, within 24 hours. Top soil will begin to dry out and germination will be cut if the plowed field is left several days. Weeds in the packed row must also be held down with either chemicals or cultivation. Quack grass should be controlled with field cultivation the previous season or with chemicals.

IT'S a winter night, and an angel song... a giant star, and a tiny stable... a manger, and straw, and swaddling clothes.

Christmas is a chime... a boy soprano, and Silent Night... carolers, and The First Noel... the tinkle of a bell on a sleigh, of a corn in a cup.

Christmas is Dickens, and Scrooge, and Tiny Tim. It's holly on the door, a candle in the window... and scent of pine, and the sparkle of fuel.

Christmas is red and green, and blue and silver. Christmas is white.

Christmas is cards, and ribbons, and tissue paper. It's a trip home, cranberries, and mince-meat pie.

Atlas Stunt Has Little Military Significance

Now Maybe Skeptics Will Let Emphasis Be on ICBM Work

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

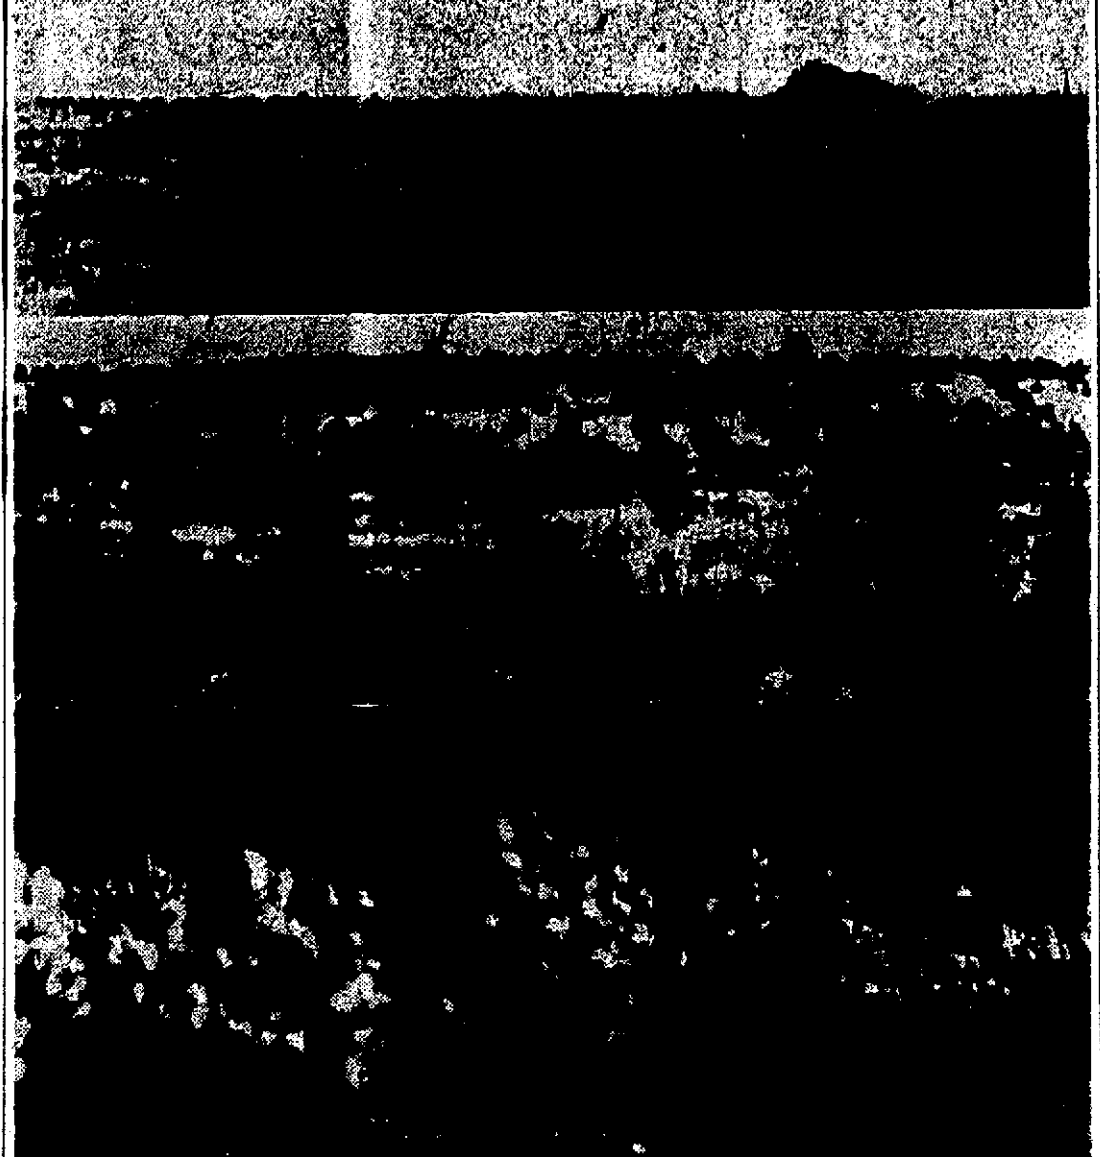

Washington — Something of a belated realization that maybe America isn't so backward after all seems to have swept the world as a consequence of the Atlas satellite launched into orbit.

The aerial demonstration has scientific value, of course, and it is fascinating to listen to the words of the president flung back from outer space through miraculous inventions in the field of electronics. But it is a stunt, after all, and the significance from a military viewpoint is not immediately any greater than when the concept of an intercontinental ballistic missile itself first became a reality a few years ago.

The importance to the citizen is the effect that all these stunts have on the federal budget. It's important from a propaganda viewpoint to catch up with the Russian prestige, but it is also important to keep focusing on military weapons rather than scientific achievements just for the sake of science.

When the Soviets launched their Sputnik, a sort of hysteria developed. This correspondent, in October 1957, wrote:

"Judging by the hysterical outcries of various people, including some of the politicians, America should bow her head in shame, pull down the flag and offer to surrender at once to the tyrants in the Kremlin. Or else, it is impulsively urged, the United States should begin spending billions upon billions no matter if it

George Cardey, Weyauwega, is the owner of a 380-acre tailor-made Christmas tree farm. He cut about 1,800 trees this year. The photos, above, show the development of the trees. Cardey plants two, three and four-year-old trees. When trees reach six to seven years old they are ready for market. Cardey has trees from 10 inches to 10 feet tall.

unbalances the budget, forces the purchasing power of the dollar down to ten cents and brings on a financial and economic debacle.

"How amazing it is that, by the simple stunt of spinning an iron ball around the world, Americans in vast numbers can be led to lose their heads in an anguished clamor of the 'for-heaven's-sake-do-something' variety."

It was pointed out at the time that the Soviet people had not been emancipated from their tyrannical rulers and that jet bombers flying from western bases within a few minutes of Soviet territory had not suddenly become useless.

Gunny Sack Being Replaced By Multi-Purpose Container

Kansas City — A 20th century successor to the gunny sack is about to show up on the American farm.

For many years the gunny sack and its bleachable sister, the feed bag, have been the farmer's friend. Once emptied of original contents the sack could be put to a variety of uses in the barn, storehouse, kitchen—even, in the case of feed sacks converted to attractive clothing for skilled housewives.

Now comes a giant-sized plastic bag. It will deliver 50 pounds of fertilizer that can be stacked in the open, even dumped in wet fields without fear of water damage.

And after the fertilizer is emptied, the sack can be ripped apart for use either singly or by welding several together into sheets, as storm windows, machinery covers, tarpaulins and a variety of other farm needs.

The new sack is a big

Winter Ideal Time for Breeding Cows

Fall Freshening Hikes Dairy Farmer's Production Base

Madison — A shift in the time that cows give birth to calves and come into milk production could bring more profit to many Wisconsin dairy farmers.

George Werner, University of Wisconsin dairy husbandman, says that fall is an ideal time for cows to freshen. That means breeding cows now, during winter months.

Werner points out two advantages of fall freshening in dairy herds. First, fall is the most common time a farmer's production base is set. The production base will determine his milk income for the year.

Dairy herds are evaluated in terms of hundredweights of milk produced during the fall base period. Then, in the spring when production is flush a farmer gets a premium-price for his base production. Excess milk produced over this base sells at a lower price. Fall freshening will increase this base of production and therefore the total dairy income.

Produce Better The second advantage in fall freshening, says Werner, shows up in our dairy herd improvement records. Cows that calve in the fall apparently produce better, he says.

Eventually we may be able to work out an even supply of milk the year around. Werner points out that dairy plants would much prefer this even supply. Now they must be equipped to handle the peak supplies of milk which are often much higher than the low periods.

Werner says many farmers are now recognizing the value of fall freshening. But he warns it does not pay to breed cows too soon after calving. He recommends a 60-day rest period.

Franklin street, are Vicki's parents.

The Mysteries of Untying a big bow fascinates Anne Stevens, who gives her wide-eyed "assistance" to Andrew Aylward, who masterfully attacks his exciting problem. The youngsters, both 3, were among North Shore Golf club members who gathered Friday for a party. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, Jr., Neenah, and Mr. and Mrs. William Aylward, route 1, Neenah.

Stationery, Pen, Stamps Excellent Gifts for Shut-Ins

Do you have a shut-in friend to whom you would like to send a gift, and are you wondering what to send? Stationery, a ball point pen and postage stamps are ideas. One of the highlights of a shut-ins day is the arrival of the mailman. He loves to hear from his friends and it takes money to get materials for a lot of letter writing.

Suggested Gift Ideas for Mother-to-be

Every one likes to share the happiness of mother-to-be. A personal shower of gifts that she can use while in the hospital, including gowns, good books, bedroom slippers, a bottle of good perfume, talcum powder and even a perky lipstick could be presented her in a large pasteboard box, designed as an overnight case. To add humor to this type of shower, why not give her some things for her husband while she is away from home? Say a dish cloth and dish towel to make dishwashing easier; a bottle of window cleaner so that he can have her windows sparkling clean when she returns home and even a pair of comfortable slippers to walk the floor in while he is awaiting baby's delivery.

Young Painter Sells Every Canvas at New York Showing

New York — A young painter brought 80 pictures to New York for his first one-man show here in a 57th street gallery, and sold every single one of them.

It was his second one-man show in this country, and that first time he also sold every stitch of canvas.

The gallery said that in other exhibitions a quarter as large it had sold everything, and in small displays had sold enough to make a larger dollar total. But it had never seen paintings go so like hot cakes and thought this record could not be matched.

The successful artist is 29-year-old, Indianapolis-born Keith Ingermann, a personable fellow trying not to act too excited by his extraordinary good fortune.

He studied at Pratt Institute in this city, exhibited with numerous groups, had a show all his own in Japan — he was in service 2½ years.

Four years ago he made his first trip to Europe. His itinerary called for three days at Taormina, Sicily, but he was so delighted that he stayed four years.

At his first American show in Palm Beach, Fla., his work was seen by Victor J. Hammer of the Hammer Galleries here, who signed him up for the benefit of New Yorkers.

He had a preview on a Monday, and a first public showing Tuesday; in the two days 69 paintings were sold. Eight days later a little red star was pasted on the last to indicate a purchaser had snapped it up.

One family bought eight, and another, six. In the closing days, desperate would-be purchasers tried to buy from people who got there first.

The pictures ranged from notepaper size to two feet or more on a side, and from $100 to $800. The gallery took in $20,000, it reported.

The paintings are congenial, clearly outlined, half-primitive and half-modernist, simple and easy to understand. They are not cartoons, but they tell a straightforward story, and sometimes feature a bit of fantasy.

Titles include "Woman in Window," "Boy with Umbrella," "Gossips," "Seated Woman," "Garden Chairs," "Red Pepper" and "Boy with Bird."

T.V. Ceremony
"It gives you a strange feeling to see your own life being played on a television screen by your own husband and his TV wife. But I enjoyed the film version of my wedding almost as much as I did the first two real ones."

Many episodes of Young's TV series parallel events in his own lively family, although both he and Betty insist they never interfere with the script writers. His screen family consists of actress Jane Wyatt as his wife, and three children.

His real family consists of Betty and their four daughters: Carol Anne, now Mrs. Arthur Proffitt and a teacher at the Buckley school in Los Angeles; Barbara, 21, student at U.S.C.; Betty Lou, 15, a student at the Bishop School and Kathleen, 13, who is in the seventh grade at the Buckley school, where her sister teaches.

The bidding (rubber bridge): West North East South 1 S D'ble 2 H 2 NT Pass 3 NT (final bid)

East's denial of spade strength (his takeouts to hearts over North's double was a denial, in effect) told West a significant story and so he tried his second suit, diamonds, opening the jack. South won with the queen and led the spade jack. West ducked, and South then led a low spade toward the king. West had to duck this also (or concede an extra spade trick), and dummy's king won. East discarded a heart.

Declarer, counting his tricks, saw that a 3-3 club break would bring him home, but he did not want to depend on that unlikely break, hence decided to look for the ninth trick in his own heart queen. He led a low heart from dummy, hoping of course that the king was held by East. That was not the case, however, and when West captured the heart queen, declarer had no further chance.

South counted too heavily on East's bid of hearts. It would have been more realistic to stop and think of what West needed to open the bidding, vulnerable as he was. He could not have come even close to the requirements without the heart king. Thus, the proper line of play was for South to cash his three clubs and his diamond ace, then, assuming that West had not discarded a heart, to throw him in with a diamond or a spade and make him lead away from his marked heart king to the combined tenace in the North-South hands.

Actor Robert Young Helped his wife, Betty, cut the cake when they were married for the second time on their 25th wedding anniversary in Episcopal chapel of the Bishop school, La Jolla, Calif., last March. The couple's four daughters were on hand for the double celebration. The daughters are, from left, Betty Lou, Kathy, Barbara and Carol. "I don't know whether it was the children's idea or ours," says Betty, "but everybody agreed that since we never had a church wedding it was high time to have one, and our silver wedding anniversary was a good date."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young Wed Three Times Without a Divorce

BY DOROTHY ROE

AP Newfeatures Writer

Hollywood—It's not often a girl gets to marry the same man three times, with no intervening divorces.

This is the unique accomplishment of charming, red-haired Betty Young, wife of the screen and TV star, Robert Young, and mother of four daughters.

The first Young wedding was performed by a justice of the peace in Santa Ana, Calif., when Bob and Betty were very young.

The second took place on their 25th wedding anniversary sary, last March, in the Episcopal chapel of the Bishop School at La Jolla, alma mater of all the Young daughters who are old enough.

The third showed up as an episode in Young's long-standing TV series, "Father Knows Best," just a few weeks ago.

"I don't know whether it was the children's idea or ours," says Betty, "but everybody agreed that since we had never had a church wedding it was high time to have one, and our silver wedding anniversary was a good date."

Chapel Service
"So we went through the whole ceremony at the beautiful little chapel on the campus of the school which has been a sort of second home to our daughters.

The ceremony was performed by the chaplain, Canon Frederick J. Stevens, and Bob's best man was the J. P. who married us the first time—only now he's Superior court Judge Kenneth Morrison.

My attendant was my best friend, Mrs. Louis B. Mayer, and all four of our daughters looked on.

"It was all solemn and lovely, and gave us a nice, glowing feeling, since both of us had become serious Episcopalians through our eldest daughter, Carol Anne.

"I had no idea they were going to use the whole thing on Bobby's show until I saw the program a few weeks ago, while I was in the hospital recuperating from some minor surgery.

TV Ceremony
"It gives you a strange feeling to see your own life being played on a television screen by your own husband and his TV wife. But I enjoyed the film version of my wedding almost as much as I did the first two real ones."

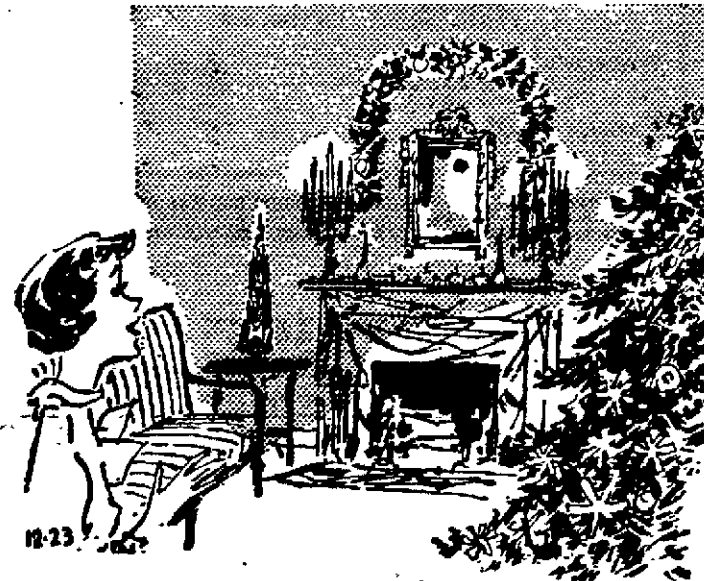

Many episodes of Young's TV series parallel events in his own lively family, although both he and Betty insist they never interfere with the script writers. His screen family consists of actress Jane Wyatt as his wife, and three children.

His real family consists of Betty and their four daughters: Carol Anne, now Mrs. Arthur Proffitt and a teacher at the Buckley school in Los Angeles; Barbara, 21, student at U.S.C.; Betty Lou, 15, a student at the Bishop School and Kathleen, 13, who is in the seventh grade at the Buckley school, where her sister teaches.

Take 3 Tips From Christmas Decorating

Now's a good time to re-evaluate lighting and color and furniture arrangement—now that Christmas makes such dramatic changes in the looks of the living room, perhaps the dining room, too. Is the room much more handsome with the extra light? This may be a bright clue to installing more light in the room for the rest of the year, and where a glowing candle or string of decorative lights are now may suggest a good place for it.

The room with all the Christmas decorations is so much more colorful than it usually is, and if the scheme was somewhat drab before, it will look faded indeed when the decorations come down. Note the effect of the various decoration colors as they go with the everyday scheme colors and take a tip from those which look best. And the furniture may be placed quite differently now to make room for the tree and/or more guests than usual. There may be a better way to arrange the furniture for all the time than the temporary plan suggests.

Cooks Relax: New Foods on Market Make Meals a Breeze

Inventors of new food products were as busy as bees in 1958. Ingenious and convenient are the many packages of eatables that came on to the scene. Here are some of the foods we tasted and thought worthwhile having on kitchen shelves:

Ready-to-eat crisp rice cereal, sweetened and flavored with cocoa will appeal to those who favor chocolate flavor.

Cooks who like to use cornflakes for meat loaves and patties, breadings foods and for desserts will find cornflake crumbs, in ½-ounce packages, save time.

Fluffy orange-flavored frosting for a two-layer cake now joins other frosting flavors and needs no cooking.

Orange pudding-cake mix makes a top layer of cake and a bottom layer of orange-flavored sauce; its 10½-ounce package serves six.

Minute Suppers
For the supper-in-a-minute crowd, heat-and-serve cans of spaghetti twists with meat balls are unusually good.

A twin envelope packet of onion dip mix comes ready to be added to cream or cottage cheese, or sour cream; the mix may also be used as a quick flavoring in meat loaf and hamburgers.

Golden pound-cake mix comes in a 9-ounce package and includes a small aluminum foil pan; two packages may be prepared at once and baked in a regular-size loaf pan; 3 packages in a 10-inch tube pan.

Quick-frozen onion rings appear in a 4-ounce package, ready to be made hot and crisp, as a go-along for steak or to give a casserole topping a fillip.

A cream and Roquefort cheese spread comes in a clear plastic oblong 3-ounce container with a snap-on lid.

Calling All Gourmets
For gourmets, spiced cherry preserves, made from ripe Danish cherries and a famous Danish cherry liqueur, taste out of this world.

For epicures, ready-to-serve wild rice in 10-ounce cans boasts the wonderful flavor and texture of the cook-at-home variety.

New packaging also came on the scene. Round buttery crackers now have a good chance of staying crisp because one box holds three individual waxed-paper wrapped packets; while one packet is eaten, the other two stay crisp.

Spice and herb packages boast colorful food illustrations, names set off in easy-to-read type, instructions for use and recipes.

Even tea bags have been redesigned; folded in a special way, they make it easy for the tea to flow through and produce a good brew.

Best of kitchen aids—a lid lifter that is inexpensive and really works. Used on vacuum-sealed baby-food jars, for instance, the lids have nary a bend and the jars may be re-capped perfectly.

Matching plastic-coated paper plates and cups have gone high style—new designs fit almost any occasion and decor.

'Interference' Mars Widow's Memories

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: In 1948 I married a man I loved deeply. He had four children. He divorced his neurotic wife in the face of plenty of criticism and family pressures so we could be married. He gave up his religion, which was additional proof that he loved me a great deal. After the divorce his wife withdrew from social life and became a recluse. (You know, the nut type.)

Four years ago my beloved husband passed away. I kept an eye open at his funeral for his ex-wife but so far as I know she did not attend. Every year on the anniversary of his death I go to the cemetery to put flowers on his grave. I always find a large wreath, obviously placed there the night before by an unknown person. I'm certain it's his ex-wife who puts the wreath on his grave and that she's doing it to humiliate me. Shall I write her a letter and order her to stop this practice? The man was my legal husband and she has no rights whatever—Legitimate Widow. Don't write the letter. This woman interferes in no way with you when she places a wreath on the grave of her former husband. He was the father of her four children. You don't lose such things as the signing of a divorce decree. Interesting that you interpret this quiet gesture of devotion as an attempt to "humiliate" you. Since you seem bent on labeling her a nut, may I point out that people who imagine themselves persecuted could be paranoid (look it up).

DEAR ANN: I'm desperate and ready to throw in the sponge. I have three daughters and one son. The girls are helpful and considerate. The boy is a problem. He's sassy, disobedient and always in trouble. When he was 8 he was picked up by the police for stealing candy bars. At 14 he was brought home by a store keeper for taking money out of the cash drawer. He denies he's guilty in the face of overwhelming evidence and calls everyone a liar. Yesterday the boy took a dollar bill from my purse. I know he took it because I had just put the dollar in the purse and left the room for a minute. The boy was in the room when I returned. I asked if he'd seen the dollar and he said no. I told him it was the last dollar and I needed it badly. Then I left the room briefly. When I returned he handed me the dollar and said he'd found it on the floor. My husband claims if the boy things I don't trust him he'll continue to do wrong. He also says the child has told him repeatedly that I don't love him. I am beaten. Please help me find an answer.—D.M.

Dear D.M.: The boy's stealing is a symptom of a deeper problem. Experts in the field of child behavior tell us that children who steal feel unloved and are seeking satisfaction and compensation. The matter in which you compared your daughters with the son suggests that he has competed unsuccessfully for your affection. You favor the girls, and he feels left out. Consult an expert on children's problems. This should have been done years ago but perhaps it's not too late to give this boy a feeling of security and worth.

Madison — The Rt. Rev. S. M. Killen, O. RHODA

"And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda." —Acts 12:13

About ten years after Jesus had been crucified and rose again from the dead, King Herod decided to persecute those of His followers who were still preaching in His name. First he killed James, the brother of John, with the sword. "And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also." Herod then threw Peter into prison. He intended, after Easter to bring him out and make an example of him before the people. But the sacred texts tell us that one night an angel came to the prison and smote Peter on the side, telling him: "Arise, quickly." The prisoner's chains fell off, and he followed the angel past the first and second ward and through the iron gate that led into the city. They had already entered a street before Peter came to himself. He decided to go to the house of Mary the mother of Mark, where he knew that a number of Christians were gathered for a prayer meeting. He had to knock hard at the gate to make himself heard. Then this girl, named Rhoda, came to see who was there. "Who is it?" she asked. And when she heard Peter's familiar voice, she was so excited and glad that she forgot all about opening the door to let him in. Instead, she turned and ran back into the house, crying "It's Peter. He's out of prison! He's outside!" Those who were present tried to calm her down. "Thou art mad," they told her. They were certain that, since Herod had stationed two soldiers inside the prison and two outside the doors to guard Peter that he could not be free. But Rhoda insisted that he was indeed outside. Meanwhile, Peter continued knocking at the gate, and they went and opened it. "And when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished."

Our Children Maturity Not Told By Calendar Years

BY ANGELO PATRI

"I am 15 and in my second year of high school. My class is holding a sort of holiday party in a hotel, a small one in our suburban village. My mother says I cannot go and nothing I can say changes her mind. It is no use asking my father. He would say, 'Who is in charge? Who is looking after you young ones?' He would even say, 'I'll go with you.' Imagine that. Having your father along at a party. Will you say something so my mother will understand?"

I think mother does understand. It is not age that decides what a person young, middle aged or ancient, should, or may do. This is decided by the maturity that allows sound judgment. That does require time and that is where the time element called age comes in. The time itself is not the thing; it is what is done in that time; what has happened to the person in the time; what experiences he has known and used to his advantage. Experience that allows good judgment is the essence of maturity and that is what you evidently have not, young lady.

Prove Yourself

What evidences have you shown of the maturity that signifies to your parents that your judgment can be depended upon in time of crisis? How independent of others have you become? Do you, for example, rise on time, get yourself ready for school, remember what books to take, remember that it is gym day and take your costume? Take your clothes to the cleaner and get them back again, all on your own? Do you keep asking to go to the show with the boy friend during school week or do you keep that for week-ends? Do you get home at the time you say you will and see that it is not well into the next morning without being warned, ordered, disciplined into doing so? Young people who want to carry adult responsibility for themselves must show that they are capable of it by practicing it in their daily living.

Here's Snug Comfort for you all winter long!

Star of 'Nutcracker' Says She's Awkward

Condition Doesn't Apply to Dancing, but To Everything Else, Ballerina Claims

BY CHARLES MERCER

New York — Graceful and coordinated are two words describing Diana Adams, the tall, attractive prima ballerina of the New York City ballet, who will dance the leading role of the sugar-plum fairy in Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker" on television Christmas night.

The celebrated Christmas ballet will be presented in color, live from New York, on "Playhouse 90" Thursday night.

Those who observe Miss Adams' gracefulness and coordination might be surprised to learn that she obtained an auto driver's license after considerable pains ("My feet and hands didn't want to work together") and the sharp criticism of an examiner ("He said I was badly coordinated.")

Ballet dancing, Miss Adams says, is unrelated to everything else in the world. To excel in it you must literally devote your life to it to the detriment of nearly everything else.

Illustration "A few times I've gotten on a tennis court and tried to hit a ball," she reports. "It was awful. I couldn't hit the ball and I was hideously awkward. Nobody could understand it. They didn't seem to realize that the muscles used in dancing are entirely different."

She was interrupted by a crash and a small ballerina of the city ballet rolled down the short flight of stairs into the restaurant, where Miss Adams was having coffee. She sprang to her feet, smiling and apologizing for tripping. "You see what I mean about ballet dancers," Miss Adams said calmly. "The muscles used in dancing are . . ."

Her interviewer winced, but no more ballerinas fell into the restaurant.

Miss Adams was born in Staunton, Va., and began studying dancing with her stepmother, Emily Hadley, when the family lived in Memphis, Tenn. She has been dancing ever since.

Cast of 95 Except for an occasional vacation of two or three weeks she practices every day. She has learned that she must sleep at least eight hours a night in order to maintain the grueling pace of a ballet season. She never has to diet and finds that at the end of a season she has to regain 16 or 18 pounds.

Although taller than many ballerinas, experts in the ballet say she has "the perfect bones" in an art that demands its finest performers must "show their bones."

A cast of 95, including 55 regular members of the New York City ballet and 40 children, will dance "The Nutcracker" Christmas night. Soloists, besides Miss Adams, will be Allegra Kent, Roy Tobias, Edward Villella and Arthur Mitchell. Music will be by the New York City Symphony orchestra.

"The Nutcracker" tells the story of Christmas eve in a home where one of the boys, a nutcracker shaped like a soldier, comes to life as a handsome prince and takes the little girl of the house through a fairyland of wonderful adventures. Viewers will see, among the program's many musical numbers, the waltz of the flowers, the Spanish, Arabian, Chinese and Russian dances, the dance of the sugar-plum fairy and the dazzling waltz of the snowflakes.

Hostess and narrator of the program will be June Lockhart.

Viking to Reopen on Christmas

Theater Remodeled; Estimated Cost Is Over $40,000

When the Viking theater reopens on Christmas day after months of remodeling, it will look like a brand new show-house in its bright, modern decor. Cost of the project is estimated to be between $40,000 and $50,000.

The outer lobby has been changed completely, with a large inside ticket booth and a smaller one open to the outside in the northwest corner of the building. It is in front of the manager's new office. The interior has been redecorated from floor to ceiling, including the inner lobby, stairway, downstairs lounge and the theater itself.

The color scheme is coordinated to two bright colors and subdued gray tones in the patterned carpeting. The bright colors are a clear turquoise blue and a brilliant pinkish red called eternal flame. Highlight tones, striking in their use, are the blues in the textured Italian tiles in the lobby walls and the black of the fabric walls on the curve of the lobby and on the doors into the theater proper. The tilework sweeps from the outer lobby to the outside of the theater building.

Shadow Box Ceiling The two lobbies, which open into each other, have a suspended shadow box ceiling. Red oak forms the large squares that frame the perforated metal background. Here and there the metal is painted in the flame and turquoise colors.

A low planter extends the full length of the 20-foot picture window across the front of the outer lobby. The flame plastic covering on one wall of this lobby and across the back of the inner lobby simulates pigskin leather in texture. Here, the double doors in textured black that open into the auditorium stand out in handsome contrast.

The walls of the stair well leading to the lounge are done in wide stripes of turquoise and gray. The lounge is decorated, carpeted in the same color scheme as the upstairs, and the theater itself.

The showpiece of the theater proper is the mural work by Elmer Nabbsfeld.

A painted life-sized, authentic Viking ship extends for 67 feet down each interior wall. Taken from the working drawings used for the movie, "The Vikings," the vessels are exact in size and reproduction. The ships used in the recent film were replicas of the only three Viking vessels ever unearthed in Norway. The original ancient ships are in a museum in Oslo.

The mural colors blend with the general color scheme, as do the newly upholstered turquoise leather seats, end walls and dados. Spotlights and indirect neon circle lights set in the ceiling conditioning units are used for illumination in the theater area. Modern styled ceiling fixtures are in the lobbies.

The women's rooms have been remodeled with tile walls in blue, pink and yellow tones.

Nickname Trouble

Conway, S.C. — (U) — There's a fellow who lives here who says the boys selling boiled peanuts are driving him nuts.

Everywhere he goes, he reports, he hears the lads yelling "peanuts." "It wouldn't be so bad," he says, "but my nickname is Peanuts."

United Nations Gift Shop Does Land Office Business With Collectors, Tourists

United Nations, N.Y. — For that loved one who wants something different this Christmas, here's a place whose wares range from an Indian lucky bean for 25 cents to a French Cameroons chief's throne for $160.

Tucked away in the basement of the General Assembly building, the U.N. gift shop has been taking in more than $2,000 a day since the Christmas season began by selling the handicraft of some 70 nations.

The store's wide variety of stock runs the gamut from the exquisite to the grotesque. It brings in an annual gross of more than a half million dollars.

The offbeat display lures some 750,000 visitors a year including collectors, tourists and a sprinkling of jaded kleptomaniacs.

A number of celebrities frequent the little shop which has been operating since 1952. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt buys many of her Christmas presents here. So do conductor Leopold Stokowski and movie star Irene Dunne.

Transactions vary from a few pennies handed over the counter by small fry tourists to a recent order for more than $3,000 in Christmas presents placed by a western industrialist.

"We import nearly 90-percent of our stock from the place of origin," said Lloyd Glasgow, manager of the gift shop. "We insist that it be indigenous to the country concerned and, where possible, that it be handcrafted."

This passion for authenticity has brought in some rather bizarre items, but most of them eventually find a buyer. Glasgow recently imported — with some trepidation — a batch of tooled leather camel saddles from Egypt to retail for $45 each. It was soon discovered that camel saddles make good seats for television viewers and the lot sold like hot cakes.

There has been a similar run on Canadian Eskimo soapstone carvings flown in from the arctic circle by bush pilots and priced from $10 to $80.

Silk stoles from India for $60 are big sellers. So are illustrated lacquer boxes from Russia for $45.

A favorite with youngsters and a source of hypertension for their parents are genuine Australian boomerangs for $2.75.

Collectors are among the store's best customers. "Last summer an international doll collectors' convention met in New York and got word that we had a stock of dolls from nearly every nation in the world priced from 50 cents to $100," Glasgow said. "They nearly bought us out."

The shop with its open counters and general air of confusion attracts a number of kleptomaniacs and small time pilferers.

"They used to get away with $15,000 in stock a year, but we've cut it down to around $5,000," Glasgow said. "When we spot them we stop them at the door and politely suggest that they forget to pay for an article concealed in their pocket. It usually works."

Aside from the perennial Christmas rush, the store receives a comfortable, steady income that goes into the United Nations general fund.

World events can bring a sudden boom, however. When the Middle East crisis broke last August and the General Assembly went into emergency session, the gift shop did a land office business.

Shy Teenagers Need Help With Thoughtful Gifts

AP Newsfeature

What is your teenager like? Do you by any chance have a shy, rather withdrawn youngster who feels unhappy that he or she is not popular with the gang? There are lots of half-grown youngsters who eat out their hearts because they feel they are not liked by their age-mates. Such young people stay at home pretending to be more interested in reading or TV or some hobby than playing around with other youngsters. A lonely adolescent often does his best to put up a good front. He gives a lot of lip service to the silly nature of his classmates' leisure time occupations. He's just not interested, or so he says.

Maybe this is true, but more often than not he is deeply hurt by the fact that he's not included on parties, and even on those few occasions when he does go along, he feels out of the swing. He can't make small talk, he can't do the things the gang is interested in doing. Next time, he decided right then and there, he's going to stay home, and he does. And the bitter truth is the gang doesn't miss him.

These shy adolescents need help. Sometimes the help they need is a bit more encouragement at home. Encouragement to be themselves — not nagging to make them better than they are. A boy or girl who can be accepted for what he is by his parents and loved and respected as is a whole lot more likely to feel the self-confidence he needs to meet adequately the demands of the outside world than if he is constantly berated for whatever quality the parents would like to see improved.

Aside from parents' attitude toward a teen-ager who is having his problems a few specific things given with the spirit of the Christmas season might well help a lot.

How would a girl who is overly conscious of not being very good-looking like a course of beauty treatments? Most cities have beauty courses, where the students are taught how best to use cosmetics, what kind of hair styling will do the most for them. They will suggest clothes styles that bring out all the good features of a not-too-good figure. A girl can profit a lot from such knowledge, especially if mother takes an interest and asks her daughter to pass on to her for her own benefit what the girl learns. And especially too if Dad will notice a bit and make a few nice comments when a wee bit of improvement is noticed.

For a boy approaching his 16th birthday nothing can set him up as much as being permitted to drive the family car. How about a course in driving lessons for him for Christmas?

Take a good look at your teenager. What would help him make the grade with his age-mates and what would he or she be willing to accept. Don't force something on your youngster because you think he needs it. This is just another kind of nagging. It's not unlikely though that he or she might jump at the chance to gain a skill that offers possibilities of increased popularity.

St. John Holy Name Faces Winneconne

Menasha Entry Needs Victory to Remain in First Half Title Chase

Menasha — The St. John Holy Name basketball team will attempt to remain in the running for Badger Amateur Basketball association southern division honors when it plays at Winneconne in a league game tonight.

The Menasha squad, which has rolled to a season record of 20 wins against only three losses, has 5-1 in the BABA league. However, the Green Bay Reliance Printers have stormed through six straight wins in the first half of league play and need only one more win to clinch round honors. Their final first round game is scheduled against the Merchants at Menasha and the latter has only one win in five starts.

That means the Printers, who have an outstanding team, are favored to nail down first round honors. If the first round title chase is hopeless, the St. John team can clinch runner-up honors with a win at Winneconne.

Winneconne 1-4

The Winneconne team has a 1-4 league record, the lone victory coming over Clintonville 80-72 in last week's set of games. However, the Winneconne team has shown a lot of scoring power, even in defeat, and is expected to run with the St. John squad.

Winneconne also has a makeup game left on the schedule with Kimberly.

The Hewitt Machines of Neenah have a 3-2 first round mark in league play and still have a regular test against Kimberly plus a makeup with Hortonville, tentatively scheduled for this evening and postponed again at the request of Hortonville.

High School Cagers Drill In Vacation

Menasha — With school shut down for the holiday period, high school basketball action is on the skimpy side this week.

Neenah will hold practice sessions during the vacation in preparation for its two non-conference games which will be played before school convenes again.

The Rockets, who now have a 4-3 overall record, meet Appleton Saturday night and Janesville a week from Saturday evening. Both contests will be played at home.

St. Mary also has a couple of games on the docket. The Zephyrs meet St. Benedict of Milwaukee next Sunday at the Appleton St. Joseph gym and on Jan. 2 they trek to Wisconsin Rapids Assumption.

Menasha will hold practice sessions although it doesn't have a game scheduled until Jan. 9. It will resume play with a bang playing at Clintonville Friday night and coming back Saturday evening Jan. 10 for a non-leaguer against Wisconsin Rapids.

Fans Look Forward To New Trickery By Giant Eleven

Still Buzz Over 'Brown Special'; Sunday's Game a Cinch Sellout

BY JOE REICHLER New York — What new trick will the New York Giants come up with against the Baltimore Colts in the National Football league championship game next Sunday? Fans in this suddenly "professional football crazy" town still were buzzing about the

Nixon Achieves Goal Ahead Of Schedule

New Head Coach of 'Skins Has 15 Years Of Pro Experience

Washington — Three years shy of his self-imposed deadline, Mike Nixon has made it as a football head coach. Nixon was promoted Monday to chief coach of the Washington Redskins, succeeding Joe Kuharich, who is moving on to Notre Dame.

The 47-year-old Nixon has been in pro football for 15 years, as player and assistant coach. In his college days, he starred as a halfback with the hard-nosed Pitt teams of Jock Sutherland.

Harbors Ambition All this time, Nixon has harbored an ambition to become a head coach, to run the whole show instead of only part of it.

Recently he said "I don't have much time left. I'm sure I'll have to get a shot before I'm 50." Redskins owner George Preston said Nixon was the only man he considered to replace Kuharich. No information was given out on salary or other terms.

A native of Mastown, Pa. Nixon is the son of an immigrant coal miner. He himself has worked in the pits and for a while played some minor league baseball.

He was a Democratic member of the Pennsylvania State Senate from 1947 through 1950. Nixon had college coaching experience at Pitt and West Virginia. In the pros, he played with the old Brooklyn Dodgers and was a coaching aide with the Pittsburgh Steelers and Chicago Cardinals before coming to the Redskins with Kuharich five years ago.

Landslide Vote Favors Iowa in Rose Bowl Pasadena, Calif. — It's Iowa by a landslide.

Football writers and other guests at a Rose bowl luncheon Monday voted, 77-7, in favor of the Hawkeyes when asked how they thought the game between Iowa and California could come out. The average point spread favored Iowa by 16.

Season's Greetings Kobussen Clothing

razzle - dazzle, double-reverse lateral that produced the only touchdown in last Sunday's 10-0 New York triumph over Cleveland for the Eastern division title.

'The Thing' "That was the Brown Special," Coach Jim Lee Howell confided today. "We called it 'the thing' all week but we finally decided on a better name."

If the Giants had a "Ewbank Special" to throw at Coach "Weeb" Ewbank's Colts next Sunday, they weren't saying. It's a safe bet they'll practice any new play in private.

Two Giants who undoubtedly will not participate in the workouts until late in the week are "Rosey" Grier and Sam Huff. Both suffered painful injuries last week but don't bet against their appearing in the lineup against the Colts.

Grier, massive defensive tackle, is on crutches as a result of a leg injury sustained when he was blocked in a play. Huff, who did such a tremendous hawking job on Jimmy Brown (the Browns' fullback star was held to eight yards in seven rushes), may have a cracked rib.

Stroud Ready On the brighter side, Howell reported that Jack Stroud, who missed the last three games, probably will be ready for action at tackle on offense. "Buzz" Guy, with a chipped ankle bone, definitely will be missing at guard.

Frank Gifford, who led the ground gainers with 95 yards Sunday, was limping as a result of an injury to his left knee but he is expected to be in shape to start. So will Alex Webster, who played last week despite two badly bruised knees.

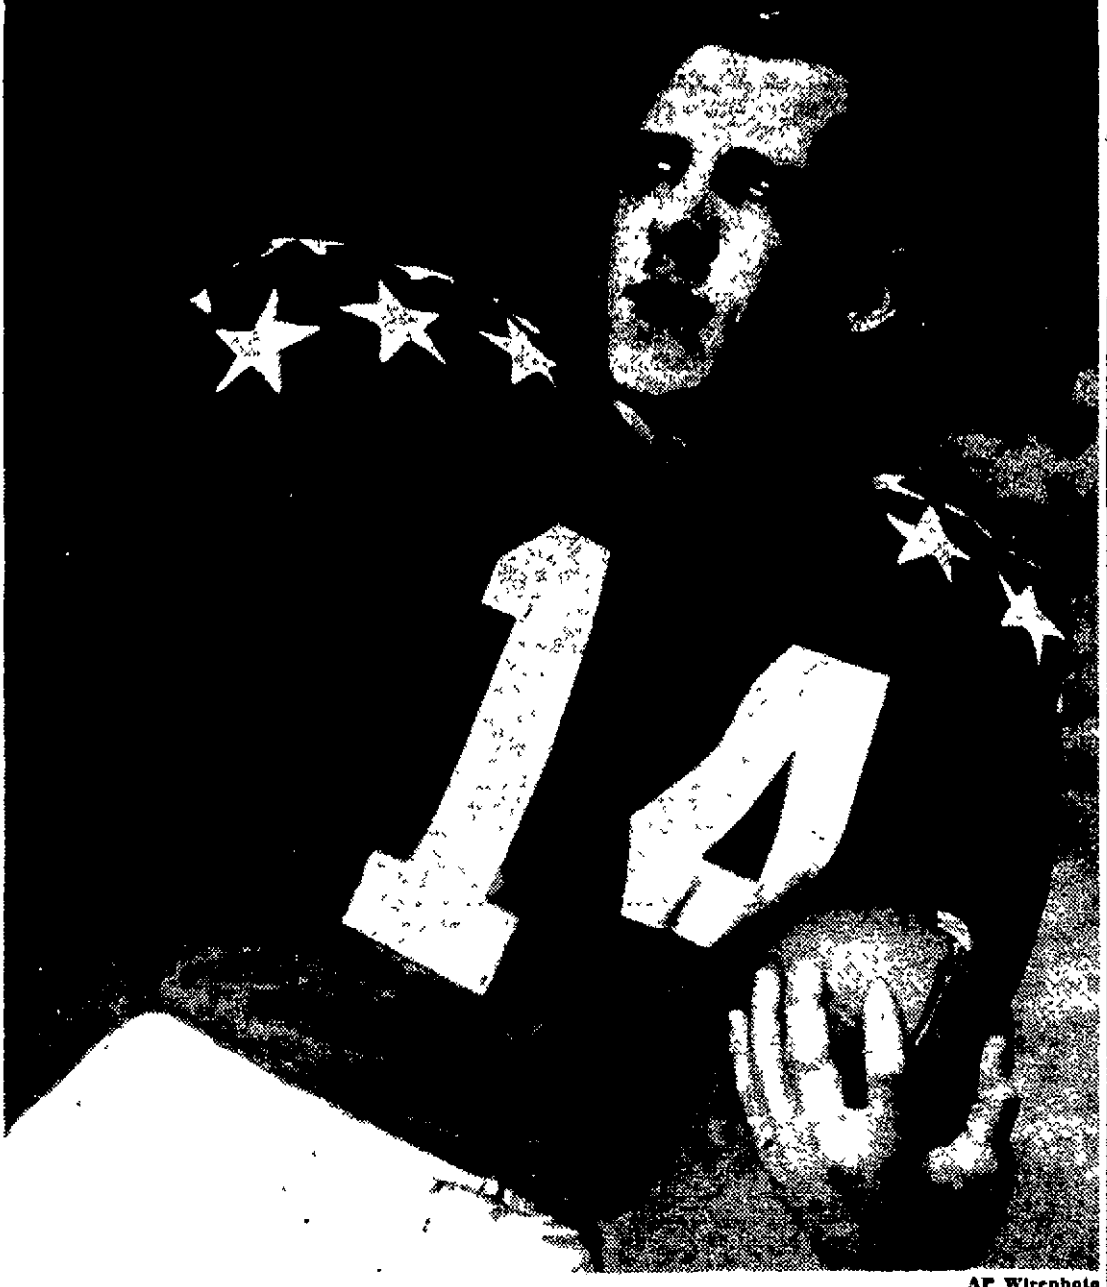

The game is a cinch sellout. All reserve and box seats were gobbled up less than 24 hours after they were put on sale. The tremendous demand forced the Giants to change their policy and announce an advance sale of 12,000 bleacher tickets at $4 each and 5,000 standing room admissions at $5. The boxes cost $10 each and the reserves go for $7.50 each. Yankee stadium capacity is 70,000.

Baltimore was allotted 15,000 of the box and reserved seats. Eighteen thousand more go to regular season ticket holders. They have until Wednesday afternoon to pick these up.

The game will be televised nationally (NBC) but New York and a 75-mile area will be blacked out.

Fraser May Start For 'Blue' Squad Montgomery, Ala. — Wisconsin guard Jim Fraser was named Monday as a likely starter for the defensive unit of the North team in the 21st annual Blue-Gray football game here Saturday.

Tentative starting lineup were listed by North Coach Jack Mollenkopf after a 2-hour offensive drill Monday.

Army's Pete Dawkins will play for the North team in the annual North-South All-Star game Saturday in the Orange bowl. Dawkins climaxed a brilliant year of honors by winning a Rhodes scholarship. He is the first All-American to achieve that honor since Byron "Whizzer" White won one in 1937.

Veeck Negotiating For Chisox Stock 'Wandering Merchant' Has Been Out of Baseball Since 1954

Chicago — Bill Veeck, baseball's wandering merchant, is negotiating to buy into the Chicago White Sox. The former owner of the Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns said Monday night "there have been some discussions" between himself and Mrs. Dorothy Rigney, largest stockholder of the White Sox.

Since being out of baseball, Veeck unsuccessfully tried to buy the Detroit Tigers in 1956 and Cleveland last summer. Meanwhile, Mrs. Rigney's brother, "Chuck" Comiskey, has been eager to gain control of the club since the death of his mother, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, in 1956.

Comiskey expressed surprise when told of negotiations between his sister and Veeck. "I don't know anything about it," he said and added he still has hopes of buying out his sister's shares. Relations between Comiskey and his sister have been strained since the death of "I hate to be uncommunicative, and usually I'm not," Mrs. Comiskey left her he said. "But I cannot say daughter 500 more shares of any more right now. I'm sure stock than she did her son. Mrs. Rigney can say more assuring Mrs. Rigney control about it and whatever she of the board of directors' says will be correct."

A source close to the American league baseball club said in getting a court action to Veeck, who made a previous limit the board members to offer for Mrs. Rigney's inter-four, thereby giving him est in the White Sox, now was equal authority.

begins setting up shop

Kuharich May Retain Some of Brennan's ND Coaching Aides South Bend, Ind. — Joe Kuharich, Notre Dame's newly-appointed football coach, begins setting up shop today.

Kuharich, who Monday officially succeeded the ousted Terry Brennan, returns to his native South Bend and alma mater to meet with university officials and the press.

Kuharich might reveal some of his plans for the 1959 season, but it is doubtful he will name his staff at so early a date.

Some May Stay The present Notre Dame staff includes assistant coaches Bernie Crimmins, Hugh Devore, Bill Fischer, Bill Walsh, Bernie Witucki and John Zilly. There were indications some will be retained.

Kuharich, 41, a former Irish guard, signed a 4-year contract—the longest ever given by Notre Dame.

Torrid MU '5' Deals Xavier First Loss

Mangham, Moran Pace 86-71 Win

Milwaukee — Marquette's basketball team picked up Coach Ed Hickey and carried him around the Milwaukee arena Monday night after the Warriors had picked up an 86-71 upset victory over Xavier of Ohio, the tenth-rated team in the land.

The Warriors put on their most impressive scoring display of the campaign and had too much defense for the previously undefeated Musketeers, winners of last season's National Invitation tournament.

Stand Up and Cheer The victory was the sixth in a row for the seventeenth-rated Warriors who have won eight of nine starts. At the final whistle, the crowd of 7,800 stood and cheered as the Marquette players hoisted up Hickey and assistant Jim Smith and carried them off the floor.

Mike Moran and Walt Mangham provided the offensive and defensive charge that wrecked the Musketeers. Marquette's fast break offense tore the Xavier defense apart, and the Warrior defense deftly dulled the visitors' attack.

Moran paced the scoring with 26 points as he was all over the floor, shooting from every angle. He dropped in 10 of 19 shots and also gave a hand with the rebounding. Mangham added 18 points and led the rebounding with 14.

The Warriors shot from the floor at a sizzling 50.7 percent clip, dropping 35 of 69 shots. They had a 44-29 edge off the backboards over the Musketeers who hit on 38 percent of their shots. Hank Stein scored 26 points for Xavier.

9-Point Halftime Lead Marquette was in front all the way taking a 4-2 lead after two minutes. Twice in the half the Warriors were in front by as many as 14 points and left the floor at the intermission with a 44-35 edge.

Early in the second period Xavier closed the gap to 59-54 as the Warriors went eight minutes without a field goal. In the last seven minutes, Marquette roared away and in the last few minutes second and third stringers kept up the attack.

Hickey, the old maestro from St. Louis, quit his job as basketball coach and athletic director there nine months ago to take over at Marquette.

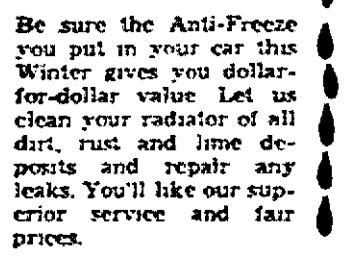

St. Louis always had been a basketball power and there was no reason to believe Hickey wouldn't find himself in clover again this year if he stayed around.

Last season, the Warriors wound up with an 11-11 record after losing their first four. Jack Nagle, who had coached Marquette for five years, resigned at the end of the season.

Hearden's 20 free throws represent an all-time single-game high for the Mid-Eastern conference. New London's Don Brigham set the former mark of 18 during the 1954-55 season.

Billy Howton Misses Packer Pass Receiving Title for First Time

BY ART DALEY Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Billy Howton, right end for the Packers and president for the National League Players association, has missed his perennial title of Packer pass-catching champion for the first time in his Green Bay career.

Howton came up in '52. He was the Bays' leading pass receiver for six straight seasons—even when in '53 he played only eight games due to cracked ribs.

Max McGee wrested the honor from Willie in '58, catching 37 against Howton's 36. Max, the left end, stretched his receptions into 655 yards, an average of 17.7 per catch, seven touchdowns and a ninth place ranking in the final league pass-catching standings. Howton turned his catches into 507 yards, an average of 14.1 per catch, two touchdowns, and 10th place.

Little Doubt Figures of the past two years show little doubt that Howton misses his onetime Rice institute pal, Tobin Rote, who was traded to Detroit in the spring of '57 for four players. Billy was Rote's favorite target and the two formed a fearsome combination.

With Rote, Howton caught 53 passes for 1,231 yards, which broke a Don Hutson record, in 1952. He followed with 25 in 1953 after missing the first four games; 52 in 1954; 44 in 1955, and 55 in 1956. Without Rote, Billy caught 38 in '57 and 36 in '58.

There was a general suspicion that the duties of president of the player group put too much stress on Howton's mind during the past season. Howton, however, felt that inability to get the ball to him hurt more than anything.

Was Panned He was panned for his performance in the Bear opener here but two weeks later against the Colts in Milwaukee he caught seven. Asked about it, Billy said "I've always contended, if they throw the ball to me I'll get it." That was the day quarterback Bart Starr pitched 46 passes and completed 26 — both Packer records.

Howton, however, seemed to fall with the general fortunes of the Packers and the once-master of the catch dropped a number of good throws. He dropped a touchdown against the 49ers in Milwaukee. Against the 49ers in San Francisco.

Northwestern Trims Washington, Minnesota Topples Stanford

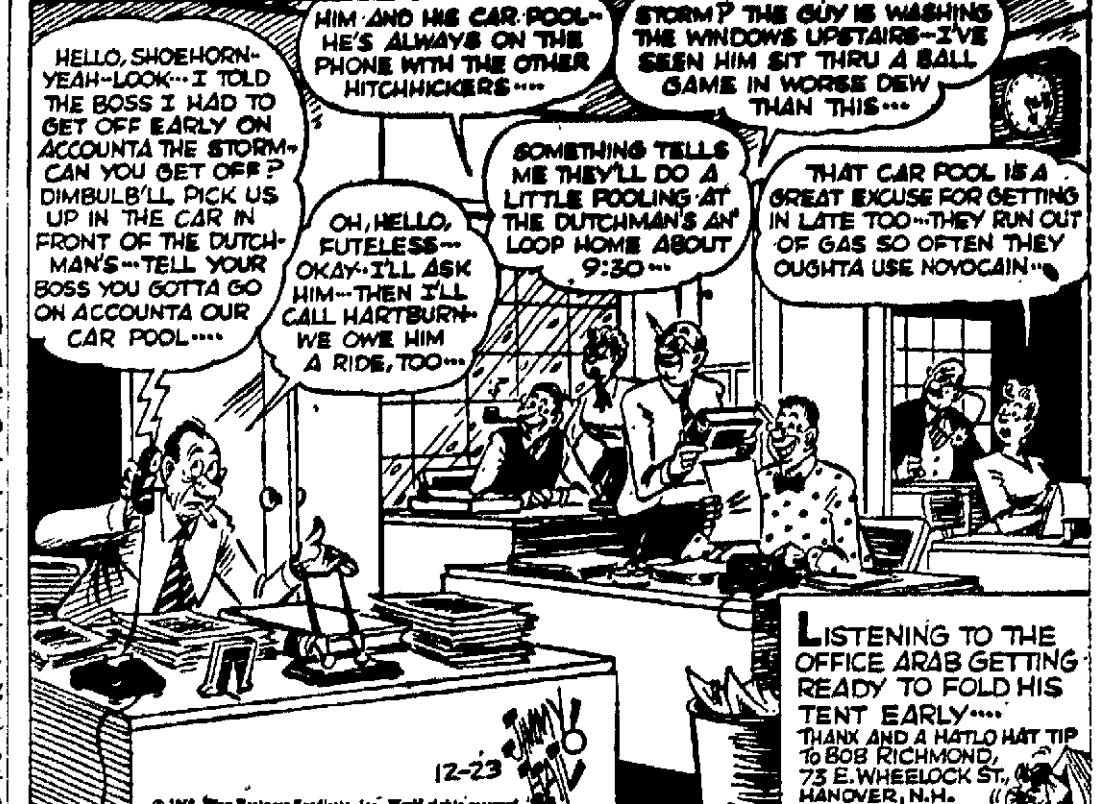

By The Associated Press
Northwestern, Minnesota and Ohio State — all playing in the friendly atmosphere of their home courts — defeated intersectional basketball foes with comparative ease Monday night.

Once-beaten Northwestern scored its fifth victory of the season with a 75-69 decision over Washington; Minnesota evened its record at 3-3 by dumping Stanford, 72-61; and Ohio State scored its second triumph against four defeats by smothering Utah, 92-69.

Spahn Wins Most Pitching Honors in NL

But Earned Run Crown Goes to Stu Miller

New York — Veteran southpaw Warren Spahn of Milwaukee captured most of the important pitching honors in the National league, the official 1958 averages released today showed.

Among the titles Spahn did not win was the earned run crown: That went to crafty Stu Miller, who won only six games and lost nine for San Francisco.

Spahn compiled 22 victories to share the top spot with Bob Friend of Pittsburgh. He also tied teammate Lew Burdette for winning percentage honors with .667. Spahn had a 22-11 record, Burdette 20-10.

Warren also pitched the most complete games, 23, the most innings, 290, and faced the most batters, 1,176.

Miller, 30-year-old right-hander, gave up 50 earned runs in 182 innings for a 2.47 ERA. His six victories was the lowest total ever posted by a major league earned run leader.

White's Showing Against Iowa Rated Tops for 1958

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob White, Ohio State's big, willing and able fullback, turned in the most sensational 1-game performance by any football player of the 1958 season when he led the Buckeyes to a 38-28 victory over Iowa's Big Ten champions.

That opinion was expressed by sports writers and broadcasters answering the Associated Press post-season questionnaire. The margin was nearly 3 to 1 over any comparable feat although Notre Dame's George Izo thrilled almost as many of the experts in the course of the season.

Of nearly 200 replies to the questionnaire, 26 listed White's 1-man show against Iowa the most spectacular. In that game, White carried 33 times and gained 268 yards — just short of the Big Ten 1-game record. More important, he lugged it 11 times as the Bucks smashed 61 yards in 14 plays for the winning touchdown in the final quarter.

It was a duel between White, the runner, and Randy Duncan, Iowa's superb passer. Duncan, incidentally, drew two nominations for his sensational passing in the same game, which netted 249 yards on 22 completions. The 210-pound White raced 71 yards for Ohio's second touchdown and scored two more on short bucks.

Rich Mayor, air-minded quarterback of the Air Force Academy, placed second in the voting with 9 ballots for his passing feats that brought a 33-29 victory over Oklahoma State. Mayor completed 28 of 45, nearly half of them in the final quarter.

Izo, a second-string Notre Dame quarterback in the early part of the season, attracted 14 votes for three different passing feats. Six experts thought the most sensational performance was Izo's passing against Pittsburgh, when he completed 18 of 26 for 332 yards. He also scored two touchdowns and passed for two.

Beat-the-Clock Finish Pittsburgh-Notre Dame Grid Clash Named Season's Most Exciting

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

For thrills and drama three games played on the same Saturday — Nov. 9 — topped the 1958 college football season.

They were Pittsburgh's 29-26 conquest of Notre Dame, a 60-15 romp by Arkansas against Hardin-Simmons and Army's torrid 14-7 victory over Rice.

The season provided plenty of spectacular and exciting games and incidents for nearly 200 sports writers and broadcasters who named the season's highlights in response to the Associated Press post-season questionnaire. They mentioned about 35 or 40 different occurrences.

2nd Most Outstanding
The Pitt-Notre Dame game, previously picked in the second spot among the season's most outstanding games, drew 18 assorted votes as the most spectacular of the year. The experts figured Ohio State and Iowa had put on a greater over-all performance but it didn't have as many thrills.

It was a beat-the-clock finish of a game that had been exciting from the start that made the struggle between Pitt's Panthers and Notre Dame's Irish so exciting. Pitt led, 15-14, at half time after getting the first two touchdowns.

Notre Dame went ahead in the third quarter, but Pitt came back to make it 22-20. In the final period George Izo fired a pass to Bill Mack, who was downed on the Pitt two,

Pettit Pulling Away From Pack in NBA

Hawks' Star Has 86-Point Lead Over Paul Arizin

New York — Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks is starting to pull away from the pack in the National Basketball association scoring race.

The jump-shooting ace has found the range for 768 points, according to figures released by the league today. The prolific-scoring Pettit has averaged 28.4 points per game, the fastest pace of any player in history through 27 games.

The Hawks' stalwart boasts an 88-point lead over runner-up Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors who had accumulated 680. This is the biggest margin enjoyed by a pace-setter this season.

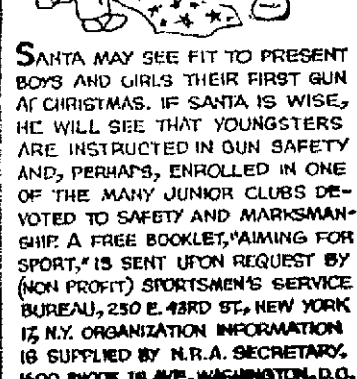

Baylor Is Third
Rookie Elgin Baylor of the Minneapolis Lakers in third place is right on Arizin's heels with 670 points. Defending champion George Yardley of the Detroit Pistons ranks fourth with 654 and Jack Twyman of the Cincinnati Royals rounds out the top five with 620.

Kenny Sears of the New York Knickerbockers remains the most accurate field goal shooter with 194 of 370 tries for 52.4 per cent. Boston's Bill Sharman, having hit on his last 18 free throws, still tops that department with 121 in 129 attempts for a .938.

The Celts' Bill Russell has no peer in the rebound category, far outdistancing the field with 585 grabs off the backboards. Detroit's Dick McGuire has the most assists, 208, but Bob Cousy of Boston has the best assists average, 7.6 per game.

San Francisco — Michigan State's "Duffy" Daugherty who handles the East team for Saturday's Shrine charity game doesn't believe in a head-knocking practice routine.

He scored one goal and picked up a pair of assists last week for a 42-point total. Bathgate leads in assists with 24. Bathgate managed only two assists for a 39-point total, but retained the goal lead with 19.

Kentucky '5' Named Top Quint in U. S.

Bearcats Drop to 2nd; Marquette Grabs 17th Spot

By The Associated Press
Kentucky's basketball coach Adolph Rupp had a Merry Christmas two days early today as the nation's sports writers and broadcasters voted his Wildcats the top team in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The "Baron," whose team is defending national collegiate champion, was still enjoying the results of a successful weekend when informed of the Wildcats' choice as top team.

"We're simply delighted," he said.

Games Through Saturday
Kentucky won its own invitational tournament over the weekend, defeating Ohio State and West Virginia. The Wildcats also had a victory over Maryland last week. Results of games through Saturday determine the poll positions.
Cincinnati, first a week ago, dropped to second, receiving 61 first place votes compared to Kentucky's 71. The Wildcats totalled 1,443 points to Cincy's 1,415. Both are unbeaten, Kentucky with an 8-0 record, Cincinnati 5-0.
Unbeaten North Carolina (5-0) is third with 19 first place votes, and 1,076 points. The points are awarded on a 10 for first, nine for second, etc., basis.

Marquette won a place on the top 20 for the first time, placing seventeenth.

North Carolina made the biggest jump, coming from tenth place, with three triumphs in four days including the Blue Grass invitational title.

Kansas State dropped a notch to fourth place, losing to Brigham Young, but bouncing back to drop North Carolina State and St. Joseph (Pa.) from the unbeaten ranks.

Despite its loss to Kentucky in the championship game of the Kentucky Invitational, West Virginia jumped from seventh to fifth place. North Carolina State holds sixth, and Mississippi State climbed a place to seventh, with its 7-0 record.

2 Newcomers

Auburn and Michigan State, with five and four victories respectively, were the two newcomers to the poll. The Tigers jumped from thirteenth to eighth place. Michigan State climbed from eleventh to ninth.

Xavier of Ohio is 10th, a one position drop.

Between 'em, McGee and Howton caught 74 of the 171 passes completed by Starr, "Babe" Parilli and Joe Francis.

Unpredictable Max finished with the "high" among the Packers in final league statistics, with his fourth in punting. He averaged 42.3 and, oddly enough, beat out specialist Dick Deschaine (41.3) who was traded to Cleveland.

Both punters finished miserably. Deschaine's 26-yarder set the New York Giants in position for their game-winning field goal, throwing the Eastern division race into a tie and a playoff. The Browns feel they might have won with a good punt. Dick averaged 33 yards in that game.

Averaged 32

Max averaged 32 in the Packers' tough loss to the Rams in Los Angeles.

Paul Hornung, taking over the kicking chores for the first time, placed seventh with 67 points. He booted 11 out of 21 field goal attempts, over 50 per cent; and added 22 extra points and two touchdowns.

Parilli finished ninth in passing, his highlight being 10 touchdown passes. Starr ranked last (15th) with three TD passes. Bart ranked below 50 per cent on completions for the first time as a pro, with 49.7. Parilli had 43.3.

Ewbank Has the Self-Assurance And the Build of Napoleon

Makes Good on Promise
BY GEORGE BOWEN

Baltimore —(P)— "Weeb" Ewbank is built physically along the lines of Napoleon. He has the same self-assurance to the point of defiance and with it has reached the heights in football coaching. Ewbank combined detailed planning with battle daring to lead the Baltimore Colts to the title in the Western conference of the National Football league in a relatively short five campaigns.

He challenges one of the old powers of the league—the New York Giants—for the championship of the pro kingdom Sunday.

Laborer Long in Vineyards
Although Ewbank labored long in the obscurity of sports vineyards, there was nothing backward about him when he took on the job of coaching the last place Colts.

He promptly proclaimed he intended to "start a regime" such as the one built by the Cleveland Browns, where he had been an assistant to Paul Brown.

At Ewbank's introduction to Baltimore, owner Carroll Rosenbloom immediately put him on a spot by saying "we've promised the people of Baltimore a winner. Until we give it to them, we won't be happy."

Ewbank, then 46 and a head coach of a major team for the first time, accepted the challenge calmly.

"If hard work will do it, we have the possibility of attainment," he said.

Hard Work His Forte
Hard work is Ewbank's forte. He's a demon in his devotion to detail. Meticulous grading of every player on every play in a game, giving them written exams and endless scanning of movies are most important to him.

He refuses to take criticism lying down. For a time after the Colt 1956 record 5-7, there were plenty of signs that Ewbank was through.

Called to a decisive meeting with Rosenbloom in Miami, Ewbank didn't go begging.

Politics in Conservation On Increase

LaFave Will Present Bill to Replace Policy-Making Body

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison —, Political demands for the reorganization of the state conservation commission are turning into a rush.

Sen. Reuben LaFave, Ocon- to, long active in private conservation clubs and now chairman of the legislature's interim committee on conservation, reported here that he will introduce a bill into the legislature next month to abolish the present 6-member, part-time conservation com- mission and to replace it with a 3-member, full-time policy-making body.

His declaration recalled similar proposals from Gov. Elect Gaylord Nelson and Paul R. Alfonsi, assembly- man-elect from Minoqua, during recent weeks.

On Record

LaFave pointed out, howev- er, that he had his proposal on record as early as the leg- islative session of 1955. Nelson is simply catching up on what public opinion in Wis- consin desires in the way of conservation department ad-

State Taxpayer Clubs To Seek Lower Budget

Requests Already $100 Million Above Present Biennial Level of Costs

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — It will be a big and challenging new year for the organized local taxpayers who have become among the most familiar sideline observers of the Wisconsin legisla- ture during the last two de- cades.

The Public expenditure sur- vey of Wisconsin, which acts for about 60 local taxpayer clubs, is marshalling its forces to fight the spenders to trim state budget requests which are already $100,000,000 higher than the present biennial level of cost.

As such spokesmen as vet- eran Arch Ely, director of the ministrative machinery, he said.

LaFave and Alfonsi are R- publicans. Nelson is a Demo- crat.

LaFave from time to time has been fiercely critical of conservation commission poli- cies, although he has main- tained a generally friendly re- lationship with the depart- ment staff.

The northeastern legislative representative said he wants one full-time commissioner to represent the southern half of the state, one for the north, and one appointed at large, by the governor, and con- firmed by the state senate.

"A part - time commission cannot work effectively under present conditions. It is ob- solete. My own experience has told me that," he said.

"A man cannot possibly know enough about this job if he serves only part-time," he asserted.

Wadsworth Satisfied With Geneva Talks

Washington —(P)— The head of the U. S. delegation said Monday he is satisfied with the first round of talks at the Ge- neva conference on suspen- sion of nuclear tests.

"Everything is going as well as expected," Ambassa- dor James J. Wadsworth said. He arrived in Washington last night to spend the holidays with his family.

"Things are moving," Wadsworth said. "I would not say I am optimistic or pes- simistic either but I certainly do not look forward to a fail- ure."

Wadsworth said his visit here was mainly to see his children and grandchildren, but that he would have con- sultations with administration officials.

Another tax club officer asked that Nelson require depart- ments to put their budget proposals into three distinct cat- egories for supporting present operations, improving or en- larging present programs, and developing new programs.

To Your Good Health

Dilute Citric Acid to Prevent Possible Tooth Enamel Harm

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

Let's come to the defense of the lemon. My mail indicates that it needs some defense. And please, no puns about "giving the lemon acid."

A m a n writes: "I was ad- vised to take the juice of one lemon in the morning, and one before Dr. Molner retiring, in hot water, to help me lose the bulgy stomach. I have at present. However, some one else advised my wife for me to pay no need, as the juice of lemons causes you to lose the calcium in your system, thereby causing you to lose your teeth. This may sound funny to you, but I would appreciate your ad- vice. — E. D."

Liked Eating Lemons
Another letter: "I am a girl of 12 and have a question. I had enjoyed eat- ing lemons right out of their skins until just recently when my aunt, a nurse, told me this has a disintegrating ef- fect on the enamel of the teeth, and also turned them black. I love to eat lemons, all but the skin. — A.R.A."

I'll answer the second let- ter first. It is true that acid will attack the enamel of some teeth — and when I say "some" that's what I mean. The amount and strength of the acid is one factor; the strength of the enamel of the teeth will vary, too.

So if you like to eat lem- ons, and you want to play safe, you might keep in mind that they (like oranges and grapefruit) contain citric acid. An occasional lemon isn't going to do any harm. But if you eat them often, they might.

Dilute Juice
You can still have the lem- ons, however, and I'll give you two safeguards. First, you can dilute the juice (and the citric acid) by taking it in the form of lemonade. Sec- ond, if you just like to eat them out of the skins, you still may do so — but to play safe, just brush your teeth afterward. The brushing won't hurt you, and it will re- move any concentration of acid that could possibly harm your teeth. Besides, the lem- ons will give you plenty of Vi- tamin C.

Now for Mr. D.: If you have read the above paragraphs, they'll answer part of your problem. Taking lemon juice in water is not going to be harmful, whether the water is warm or cold.

I see no advantage in tak- ing it twice a day; once a day should do all the good that is possible. Taken in the morning, it will help avoid constipation, if present. Just drinking a glass of plain wa- ter in the morning will help in that regard, although I dare say that the lemon, hav- ing a bit of food value, will give an additional push to- ward getting your digestive system ticking.

But — and here's the cold fact — you can't count on it doing anything to remove that stomach bulge, unless, per- chance, the sharp sting of the lemon helps wake you up and gets you moving more brisk- ly than you ordinarily would. (Copyright, 1958)

H. O. Barney Reviews Gains Of Taxpayers

Work Resulted in $284,754 in Cuts,
He Tells Lions Club

A review of Appleton Taxpayers association's accomplishments in the November budget sessions of the county board, city council and school board was given the Appleton Lions club Monday.
H. O. Barney, association leader, said association members called for $681,085 cut in spending. Public opinion, aroused by the association,

Barney

forced $284,754 to be trimmed,
he said.
The net result, Barney claimed, was reduction of an impending $6 tax rate hike by $2.50.
The association asked the vocational school to trim $6-000, the county to reduce its surplus from $600,000 by applying $250,000 to taxes, saving $250,000 for the University of Wisconsin extension center and holding $100,000 in reserve, the schools to cut a flat $100,000 and the city council to drop $325,085 in proposals.

Flat NO
Barney said the vocational school gave the association a nice, but flat no, the county told the association it doesn't understand county financing, school officials refused and the city cut $284,754.
Next year, he reported, the association intends to study the county airport, the city's utilized budget form, school utilization and the effect of past commitments on future tax rates.

"Actually," he said, "public officials want to do a good, efficient job, but are reluctant to change operations unless there is public support."
His organization, he said, believes its major function is to keep the taxpayer informed of what is happening.
"It's the only way we can justify our existence," he said. "An informed public is the best tool to secure sound economic government."

lided Monday night at E.

UW Shopping Center Unit Incorporates

Madison — A non-profit corporation, which plans to purchase a 33-acre University of Wisconsin farm site and develop it as a shopping center, filed incorporation papers Monday with the secretary of state.

The corporation, called Kelab, Inc., filed as a non-stock non-profit organization. Its articles of incorporation state that it was formed exclusively for educational and charitable purposes and that all of its income must go to the university.

The incorporation is the first legal step in a plan originated by former governor Oscar Rennebohm, now a university regent, for development of the land into a shopping center. The State Building Commission Dec. 11 voted 4-3 to approve the plan.

The name Kelab comes from the first letter in the last names of the five directors. They are Hugo Kuechenmeister, Milwaukee; and Fayett H. Elwell, Lawrence J. Larson, Gordon D. Adams and Henry Behnke, all of Madison.

High Percentage Of GI Mortgage Debts Repaid

Wisconsin veterans with GI home loans have set remarkable record of paying off their home mortgage debts, J. P. Cullen, manager of the Veterans Administration's Wisconsin regional office in Milwaukee, said today.

Cullen disclosed that out of a total of 403,000 World War II and Korean conflict veterans in Wisconsin, GI home loans have been made by more than 81,000 since the program was launched in December 1944.

Of that total number of home mortgage loans guaranteed, 27,790 have been paid in full by the borrowing veteran, he said.

Cullen added that the VA had paid claims on only 500 out of all these loans guaranteed, for 6 per cent default record against a national average of .8 per cent.

His statement was based on a study of home financing recently completed by the Veterans Administration.

U. S. Pay Goes Far in Portugal

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Lisbon—How would you live if you, an American couple, were to be transferred by your husband's corporation to Lisbon?

The answer is: from a bread-and-butter viewpoint, exceedingly well, exceedingly so. For instance:

Porter

John earns close to $12,000 a year as the regional representative of a big U. S. concern in this capital city of Portugal. He lives here with his wife, Barbara, and their three small children.

They live on a scale that you, with an income four or even five times their pay, couldn't manage in a major American city.

"I get superb servants for $17 a month and they work from early morning until we're finished and when we are entertaining, that often isn't until after midnight," says Barbara. "I have two servants who sleep in and I could get as many as I want at even $12 a month, because they're so eager for the shelter and food."

Saves Much

"I save 10 to 15 per cent of my salary every month," says John, and he pounds the table as he emphasizes, "a man is a downright fool if he doesn't save on his salary over here. The way I'm putting money aside, if the company doesn't take care of me when I retire, I'll be able to do it myself."

"It costs me around $38 a week to feed seven of us three times a day," adds Barbara, "and I can get a caterer for a whole day for $5 when we entertain. A laundress does all our laundry in one day for $1."

"You've seen our house," John interrupts. "It has four bedrooms outside of the servants' quarters, a separate dining room, a pantry—why, it's a mansion! And for this I pay $110 a month. Imagine that in a big city in the states." (The house is located in a top area too, near Estoril, a playground of Europe's wealthy and only 30 minutes drive from Lisbon.)

And, "We have our clothes made to order. We buy the materials and the clothes are beautifully made for next to nothing."

No Taxes

And, "Don't forget, we pay neither a U. S. nor a Portuguese income tax. I've been out of the country for more than 18 months, so my income is exempt from the U. S. income tax."

It wasn't impertinent of me to ask specific questions about living costs from John and Barbara. Wherever we went in Spain and Portugal we found Americans happy to volunteer details about their way of life.

They are paid salaries on a par with America's spectacularly higher pay standards. Prices, particularly of luxuries and services, are startlingly cheap in these lands in comparison with prices at home.

Living costs in Portugal have risen less than 10 per cent since 1949 and, despite galloping inflation in Spain now, prices in Spain for Americans with dollars are extremely low.

What emerges is an ease of living which Americans at similar pay levels can't even begin to approach at home.

Listen again:

Barbara: "I have time. Time for the kids, time for study, time for gracious entertaining, time for doing what I want to do. There never was time like this at home in Maryland."

Must Entertain

John: "Here the wife is so much more important to her husband's work than in the United States, because social life centers around the home. The wife's entertaining of visitors, customers, bosses is vital to her husband's career in a foreign land."

Barbara: "At the same time, we American wives don't see as much of our husbands as in the states. A lot of John's business meetings are just as likely to be in the evenings as during day hours."

John: "Which reminds me that we do live in a golfish bowl. We're a minority in a foreign land and so our actions are always noticed. We don't talk politics, or get out of line in public here, and last long."

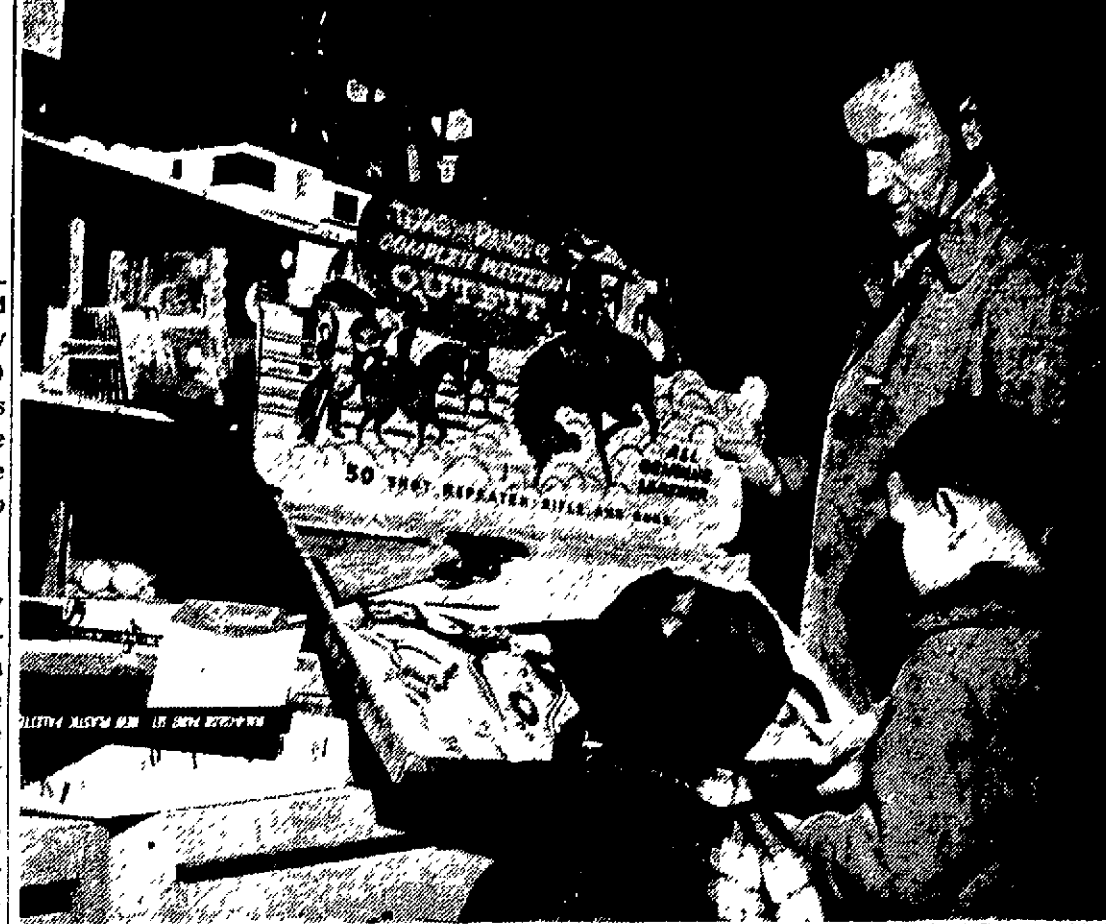

Of course, it's not all as pretty as a Christmas tree. Most Americans stationed abroad live in a narrow circle, consisting of other Americans also stationed in the area. After a while they lose touch with home. Many of the wistful questions and comments John and Barbara tossed at us indicated there are plenty of social and political disadvantages to offset the economic advantages of life abroad.

Economize Abroad

"Could you live like this on $12,000 a year?" asked John as our long evening of talk and interviewing ended.

"No," we admitted. "With the income tax, the cost of living and the scarcity of domestic help, we probably couldn't do it on $60,000."

"See?" said John triumphantly. "Maybe our company's slogan should be 'take a job abroad and economize!'"

Share Prices Dip Sharply

Volume Declines In Trading on New York Exchange

New York — The stock market was off slightly as turnover continued to dwindle early this afternoon.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so. A few stocks bucked the general trend by posting fair gains.

The market was lower from the start in a continuation of Monday's irregular decline.

Prices were adversely affected by the fact that today is the last session in which profits can be taken in "regular way" delivery for entry in 1958 income tax returns. The minimum four business days remains between now and 1959 for delivery of stocks sold, according to New York Stock Exchange rules.

Oils continued under mild pressure following the Venezuelan government's hike in oil taxes on companies producing there. The background also included another boost in the consumer price index and 1959 for delivery of stocks sold, according to New York Stock Exchange rules.

Most steels, motors, chemicals, coppers, rails and utilities showed small losses. Tobacco, drugs, aircrafts and electronics were mixed.

General Electric advanced two points or more and Westinghouse Electric about a point.

Gulf Oil fell more than a point.

U. S. government bonds staged a mild rally.

Nicolet Paper To Build Addition For New Machine

Madison — The Nicolet Paper corporation, DePere, Monday received a permit from the Wisconsin Public Service commission to construct a machinery room over the Fox river north of its plant.

The addition will house a third paper machine and is expected to double production. Trade sources indicate a paper machine of this size would mean the employment of at least 60 more men.

Thief Steals 'World' From Supply Store

Officials of the E. W. Shannon Office Supply, 300 E. College avenue, reported Monday to police that a thief walked off with a 12-inch plastic globe equipped with an electric light inside. The globe, worth $26, was taken from the front display window, it was reported.

Zingsheim Takes Election Papers; States No Reason

Dick Zingsheim, unsuccessful Democratic nominee for assembly in November, has taken nomination papers for the April 7 city election, but refuses to tell why.

Recurrent rumors of the last several days have it that Zingsheim intends to run for alderman of the Fifth ward, a post held by Alvin E. Tews, and for which Tews has taken papers.

Zingsheim, 34, 907 W. Loran street, ran third behind winner Kenneth E. Priebe, an independent, and Mark Catlin, Jr., the Republican, in the November assembly race. He is a salesman for an office equipment firm.

Two Women Get Divorces

Chilton—Two Calumet county women have been awarded divorces by Circuit Judge Helmut F. Arps.

Mrs. Dorothy Vollmer, 46, 11111st, received a divorce from William Vollmer, 53, 1111st, the Republican, in the November assembly race. He is a salesman for an office equipment firm.

Mrs. Karlene Matlock, 26, Sherwood, received a divorce from Norman Matlock, 33, who lives in Pennsylvania. She was given custody of a son.

Both women charged desertion.

Kentucky Woman Has 107th Anniversary

West Liberty, Ky. — Aunt Jeston Gevedon smoked her clay pipe and enjoyed a squirrel dinner topped off with a piece of her 107th birthday cake today.

Squirrel might not be considered normal fare for one of her age but Aunt Jeston's appetite does credit to a person of much younger years.

Yesterday, for instance, she dined on a dinner of salmon, oatmeal, cake, milk and two cups of coffee.

Workman Collapses, Falls on Log Pole

Milton Newbert, 34, route 1, Appleton, collapsed atop a log pile at the Interlake mill of Consolidated Water Power and Paper company this morning and was injured in a fall between the logs. Newbert was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by Larry's ambulance where he was reported in fair condition.

Boy Injured

Dale Rohm, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Rohm, 834 W. Brewster street, received bruises to his head when his bicycle collided with a car driven by James Ready, 1501 W. Packard street, Monday night. Ready reported the accident in fair condition.

Feuerstein Home

Ray L. Feuerstein, city treasurer, was released from St. Elizabeth hospital Monday, where he had been ordered for a rest and checkup a week ago. He will rest at home for a week or more.

Mail Volume Lower This Yule Season

Postmaster Expects Final Tally to be Down

Postmaster Francis Sumnicht said today mail volume for the period of Dec. 8 through Dec. 24 will be slightly lower than that handled last year. The figure for last year was 1,600,000. To date this year the figure is 1,584,000 which is 16,000 behind last year's figure.

On Monday there were 96,400 machine cancellations over last year's figure of 52,000 for the same day. There were 135,000 units of incoming mail. Last year for the same day there were 128,000 units. Sumnicht said he expects a large volume of mail Wednesday.

There were 4,850 incoming parcels Monday and 4,250 on the same day last year. Outgoing parcels numbered 2,173, a figure up over last year's 1,869.

The postmaster said parcels arriving late Wednesday will be delivered on that day and also on Christmas day, along with special delivery mail.

Fire Service Outside City Still Unsolved

Mayor Says Talk of Cutting Could Imperil Future Annexations

The question of continued fire service for industries, businesses and individuals outside the city stumped the Appleton council's public safety committee again Monday.

A week ago the fire chief brought two new applicants to the committee on orders of the mayor. Both sought the same deal others received in the past: Agreement that they can call direct to Appleton fire station in event of fire if they post a $500 bond with the city.

The bond assures the city charges amounting to $300 for the first hour of service from one truck and $200 an hour, or any part of an hour after that, will be paid. Additional trucks cost $200 an hour.

Animosity Possible

Mayor Mitchell advised that hard talk of cutting out all service for outside buildings be so peddled. It could result in animosity that would deter annexation, he said.

He also said that it might upset plans for a University of Wisconsin extension center, since the city might have to obtain easements from some of the people who want fire protection service in order to extend sewer and water to the extension building.

The committee's discussion evolved three questions:

1. Should the city continue the standby service begun in 1948, immediately after the Normandie nightclub fire?
2. Should the city continue to furnish the service "free" (in that no annual standby charge is made)?
3. If a charge is made, how shall it be determined? Shall it equal the amount every property owner in Appleton pays for the standby service each year in the form of taxes? Should it include an added amount? Should it be a flat charge?

Richard Balliet, who has handled most of the bonds which the outsiders must buy, said there is and has been need for a firm policy.

Originally, he said, the bond was furnished to the town governments who then notified the city that the building should be placed on the special list.

It was changed later, he said, so that the bond had to be furnished the city clerk. There also is a variance, he said, in the amount of the charge for the first hour, some pledging to pay $500.

The mayor questioned whether the city could refuse to extend the service of one truck, purchased by federal civil defense matching funds.

Who Calls?

This produced a question whether the town fire chief shouldn't be the only source of a call to Appleton officials for help. This would create delay, Chief Neumann said, that could mean loss of the building.

(Appleton has mutual agreements with a number of cities, towns and villages that provide for furnishing of help if the chief in trouble calls. These are different from the other special bond situations where anyone can call directly to the fire station and the chief is obligated to respond with one truck and five men.)

Neumann was ordered to check surrounding cities for their policies and City Atty. Jury was asked to check existing agreements of both types.

Venezuela
Ups Tax Rate
10 Per Cent
Action Will Hurt
Industrial Program,
Oilmen Declare

Caracas, Venezuela (U-P) — A sudden 10 per cent hike in income taxes decreed by the government will hurt industrial development in Venezuela, a spokesman for a major U. S. oil company said Sunday night.

The country's ruling Junta announced the 10 per cent raise without warning Saturday. Foreign oil companies will have to turn 60 per cent of profits over to the government instead of the 50-50 split in the past.

Foreign oilmen stayed in their offices over the weekend studying how the tax increase would affect them.

A spokesman for the Creole Petroleum corporation said on a television program the tax decree "will be highly prejudicial to the future development of industry in Venezuela" by discouraging private investment.

Experts estimate that Creole, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, would have to pay more than $80 million this year over what it had expected to pay. Creole, biggest operator here, produces about 44 per cent of Venezuelan oil.

Indicates Surprise
Leaders of President-elect Romulo Betancourt's democratic action party indicated he was as surprised as anybody at the action of the junta. Elected two weeks ago, Betancourt does not take over until February.

He had said in his campaign that he would negotiate with foreign oil companies to get Venezuela a bigger share of their profits. It appeared that the junta decreed the increase to take the edge off the president's plans.

However, oilmen here felt Betancourt would have to accept the junta's action to safeguard his political future.

Wisemen continue to search every day for spiritual strength. Physically and mentally it cannot be turned on and off. Wealth can never buy it . . . Man's greatest strength comes in adversity – from without . . . like the star the wisemen followed by faith . . . until it led them to the Christ child. Men moving on camels or jet planes gather spiritual strength at the same lowly manger . . . for this cause Christmas is a gentle reminder to all mankind.
